Rock Festival Marked By Death, 4 New Babies

TRACY, Calif. (AP) — A free rock music festival that police estimated drew 300,000 young people to the dry brown hills east of here left behind it a blanket of litter, four violent deaths, and four new babies.

The babies arrived prematurely to mothers who were taken to medical-aid tents staffed by 19 doctors and six psychiatrists. The staff also reported treating many youths for overdoses of drugs.

Authorities said the four men who died were:

Dale Davis Runs For Treasurer

TROY, Ohio (AP) — Dale E. Davis, 41, Miami County Treasurer since 1964, today announced as a republican candidate for state treasurer in the May 5 primary.

Davis, legislative chairman of the Ohio County Treasurers Association, said he has been urged to seek the post by county treasurers.

"We all firmly believe that new ideas and methods are needed to bring back more of the tax dollar to local communities," Davis said.

John D. Herbert, current Ohio treasurer, plans to seek the GOP nomination for attorney general. State Sen. David S. Holcomb R-6 Dayton announced to fill the post. A Bowling Green teacher, Roger J. Pinta, announced Sunday that he will seek the Republican nomination. State Sen. R-bin T. Turner R-14 Marion has said he is interested in seeking the Republican party's nomination.

On the Democratic side, Dennis E. Thompson and Mrs. Gertrude W. Donahey, both of Columbus, have indicated they will run.

Thompson is an accounts collector in the Columbus Division Electricity. Mrs. Donahey is the widow of the late Lt. Gov. John W. Donahey.

Israel Denies U.A.R. Troops Crossed Suez

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel has denied Cairo's claim that 250 Egyptian troops crossed the Suez Canal and occupied Israeli positions for about 24 hours.

"Nothing of the kind is known to us," said an Israeli spokesman in Tel Aviv. "No Egyptian force entered any Israeli stronghold, neither did it remain there or blow it up."

Today, Israeli jets attacked Egyptian military targets in the central Suez Canal area for 20 minutes, the Israeli command announced. It said all the planes returned safely.

Egypt claimed that its troops crossed the northern part of the canal Saturday night and occupied positions on the Israeli side.

"Our troops succeeded in forcing the enemy to retreat three miles from the raided area," the communique claimed. "Both sides exchanged artillery and tank fire."

Cairo said the commander of the Egyptian force "managed to stay until 7 p.m. Sunday when he was ordered to withdraw." The Egyptian force "destroyed all Israeli fortified positions before withdrawing," the communique said. A later statement said the operation "established the combat competence of the Egyptian soldier and the enemy's hesitation to confront him face to face."

The raid was the biggest action claimed by Egyptian troops since the Arab-Israeli war of 1967.

In Beirut, the Lebanese Parliament approved the new government of Premier Rashid Karami, ending an eight-month political crisis resulting from the Lebanese army's attempts to curb Palestine guerrillas using villages in south Lebanon as bases for attack on Israel. Karami was premier at the time, resigned, and had been trying ever since to form a new government.

He succeeded Nov. 25 after the army and the guerrillas concluded an agreement restricting the guerrillas to a certain area.

Meanwhile, the Soviet government in effect extended recognition to the Palestine guerrillas by inviting a delegation from the Palestine Liberation Organization to visit Moscow at the end of the month. The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said it was the first time the Soviet government had invited an official delegation from the guerrillas to Moscow.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has been urged by two influential Democrats to appoint an independent fact-finding panel to investigate the alleged massacre of civilians by U.S. soldiers at the South Vietnamese village of My Lai.

The proposals came separately Sunday from Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, and former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Stennis said the panel should be composed of persons "outside the government and outside the military" and should survey the facts and make a special report to the President.

Humphrey told newsmen the panel should be similar to the Warren Commission, which probed the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. The former vice president said in Los Angeles "enough has been said that there needs to be an examination."

Stennis said the special panel's probe could be undertaken while trials of the accused are under way.

But the senator spoke against a full-scale congressional investigation, saying "if we in the Congress go to holding a hearing now and before that trial is over, it will go off in different directions, be highly confused and totally unfair to the defendants."

U.M.W. To Vote For President On Tuesday

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Mine Workers union votes for a president Tuesday after a long, bitter campaign between incumbent W.A. "Tony" Boyle and Joseph A. "Jack" Yablonski.

Boyle has held the $50,000-a-year office since he succeeded John L. Lewis in 1963. Yablonski, a member of the union executive board for 27 years, has accused him of mishandling union finances. They have sharply criticized each other in campaign appearances.

Both candidates promised the union's 200,000 members, active and retired, to work for higher pay and pensions for the rank and file.

To meet the added expense of bigger retirement benefits they proposed an increase in the royalty of 40 cents per ton of coal which mine operators now pay into the union treasury.

Rhodes Approves Training Academy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes today approved the location of a state police and fire training academy in Madison County on land owned by the state on the grounds of the London Correctional Institution.

The legislature has appropriated $1.5 million each for a police training academy and a fire training academy from funds approved by voters last year in state issue No. 1. The governor said the state hopes to have the academy under construction in the coming year.

Tax Reform Amendment Hits Labor Unions

WASHINGTON (AP) — An amendment that would remove much of the political clout from labor unions by eliminating their tax-exempt status is presenting a major stumbling block to an early Senate vote this week on the tax reform bill.

Managers of the bill, now in its third week of Senate debate, say a final vote can be held Tuesday or Wednesday. But the amendment, sponsored by Arizona Republican Sen. Paul Fannin, must be dealt with first, and a tough floor battle is expected over the politically charged issue.

Fannin's proposal would deny tax-exempt status to unions and other organizations using members' dues and assessments to support or oppose political candidates or parties.

Fannin insists his amendment would hit tax-exempt business groups equally with unions, but he concedes his great concern is with labor.

"It has been estimated," he says, "that over $100 million were spent by labor unions in the last national elections, not including wages and salaries of those in every-day activities that are truly involved in political endeavors."

"One of the things which makes this practice so iniquitous is that much of this money is collected by the union leaders under arrangements which give a man no choice but to belong to a union."

The AFL-CIO contends these activities are legitimate because the funds are received in voluntary contributions from union members and because they are paid out not by the labor organization itself but by a separate group, the Committee on Political Organization—COPE.

So far during floor debate, the Senate has cut back substantially on the House-passed tax reform bill while voting for a number of politically popular riders, including a big increase in Social Security benefits.

Two leading Senate Republicans suggest these votes are part of a Democratic scheme to

Plan To Fight
Deployment

WASHINGTON (AP) — House military spending critics are mounting a last ditch campaign to block deployment of the controversial Safeguard antimissile system, a campaign they're almost sure to lose.

They're also trying to strike the Advanced Manned Strategic Aircraft (AMSA) bomber and a host of other major weapons systems from the $70 billion defense appropriation that went to the House floor today.

But no effort was expected against the cluster nuclear warhead MIRV, which has $84 million in the defense bill.

The House Appropriations Committee already had moved to steal some of the critics' thunder by cutting the bill $5.3 billion, the deepest slash in a defense bill since 1963.

The bill contains $779 million to begin developing Safeguard antimissile—ABM—sites in Montana and North Dakota.

Nixon Holds Televised News Conference Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon comes down from his snow-covered mountain retreat today to face a news conference and reporters who have had two-and-a-half months to prime themselves with questions since their last formal meeting with the chief executive.

Much has happened since Nixon's last news conference Sept. 26 to spark tonight's questions—the alleged massacre of civilians by American soldiers at My Lai in Vietnam, the defeat of the Haynsworth Supreme Court nomination, the start of U.S.-Soviet arms control talks, continued inflation and several other Vietnam developments.

The President spent the last part of his weekend at his Camp David lodge in the Maryland mountains preparing for the 9 p.m. EST news conference, with only a few aides present. Three to four inches of snow fell in the area before Nixon's scheduled departure today.

In announcing the news conference, his eighth since taking office, the White House said only that Nixon would have no opening remarks and would go straight into the questioning.

The session will be carried live by the major television and radio networks.

All indications pointed away from any announcement of further U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam. For the time being, the administration is standing on the 60,000-plus cut-back that has already taken place, while taking a careful look at reports of increased North Vietnamese infiltration of the South before going further in manpower reduction.

Besides the My Lai incident and possible troop withdrawals, other Vietnam subjects Nixon

Needy Pensioners Unlikely To Benefit From SS Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than a million of the neediest Social Security pensioners probably will get no benefit from the 15 per cent increase in payments expected to be approved by Congress.

Those involved are the 1.181 million old persons and others whose Social Security benefits are so low they are supplemented by state welfare payments.

This is their situation, as described by officials:

The law governing the federal-state welfare program—not the Social Security program—requires each state, in setting the level of welfare assistance, to consider a recipient's income. This includes any income from Social Security.

So if a person is receiving Social Security benefits and a supplemental welfare payment, a raise in the Social Security level would simply mean a corresponding reduction in the supplement, and the pensioner would get the same total payment.

The House Ways and Means Committee was aware of this when it drafted the legislation, sources said, but decided it could not get into the intricacies of welfare legislation and still produce a Social Security increase bill in time for enactment this year.

However, the sources said, the problem will be considered early next year when the committee undertakes extensive overhaul of both the Social Security system and the welfare program.

There are ways in which at least some states could help the left-out recipients, but officials said as a practical matter they are not likely to be used.

States could refigure their estimates of minimum living budgets, thus giving all their welfare recipients an increase.

Among the more than 25 million total Social Security beneficiaries, officials said, are 12.4 million retired workers, including 2.1 million receiving the minimum payment of $55 a month, and $1.3 million disabled workers, including 53,000 receiving the minimum.

Widows and widowers number 2.9 million and the remainder is made up of children and other dependents.

Blaze Destroys Small Restaurant

WILLIAMSBURG, Ohio (AP) — Fire early today destroyed the Toot'n Tellit restaurant here with a loss estimated unofficially at $30,000.

Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Firemen from Batavia joined the Williamsburg department in fighting the blaze. No one was injured.

Air Power Keeps GI Losses Down

SAIGON (AP) — American air cavalrymen and airmen dogging North Vietnamese troops along a 100-mile stretch of the Cambodian border north of Saigon killed 170 of them in a dozen clashes over the weekend, military spokesmen said today.

Much of the attacking was done by rocket-firing helicopter gunships, dive-bombers and artillery, and as a result, U.S. casualties were held to three killed and 18 wounded, the spokesmen said.

The heaviest action occurred in War Zone C, 58 miles north-west of Saigon, and near the Bu Dop Special Forces camp 88 miles north of Saigon.

Official sources said the North Vietnamese were trying to protect the infiltration corridors from Cambodia, and several flights were triggered by enemy fire on scout helicopters flying at treetop level.

There were no reports of any helicopters being shot down.

About 40 American B52 bombers attacked North Vietnamese base camps and gun positions along the Cambodian border during the night, unloading more than 1,000 tons of explosives. The targets were 4½ miles northeast of the Bu Dop camp and within two miles of the Cambodian border.

The camp has been the target of sporadic shelling for more than a month. Five rockets hit the camp's airstrip Sunday, killing six Vietnamese and wounding 12 as they waited for helicopters. "Light" American casualties also were reported.

Despite the shelling, no major ground attack has been made on the camp. U.S. officers maintain that heavy B52 raids and constant air and ground reconnaissance by the 1st Air Cavalry have prevented the North Vietnamese from massing for such an attack.

The U.S. Command reported 4 enemy rocket and mortar attacks across South Vietnam from 8 a.m. Sunday to 8 a.m. today. Headquarters said only eight caused casualties or damage, and two Americans were killed and six were wounded.

Riot Trial Defense Set

CHICAGO (AP) — The defense takes over today in the trial of seven men charged with conspiring to cross state lines to incite rioting during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Defense Attorney William Kunstler said the first move would be to ask U.S. Dist. Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman for a directed verdict of acquittal.

The defense claims the government failed to prove that the defendants came into Illinois with the intention of fomenting violence.

During the prosecution's case—which began Sept. 24 and brought in 54 witnesses—the defense argued that the law under which the seven are charged—an amendment to the 1968 Civil Rights Act—is unconstitutional. They contend the law violates the defendants' First Amendment rights of free speech and peaceful assembly.

The prolonged trial is one of the most expensive ever held in Chicago. Sequestering the jury of 10 women and 2 men in a downtown hotel is costing $5,000 a week. The transcript of the trial is already nearly 10,000 pages long.

might be asked to discuss include the two latest antiwar demonstrations, Henry Cabot Lodge's resignation as chief U.S. negotiator at the Paris peace talks and the course of the war itself.

On foreign matters, the so-called SALT talks in Helsinki on disarmament, a possible meeting between NATO and its Communist counterpart, the Warsaw Pact alliance and trade policy provide newsmen with possible questions. Domestically, Nixon could face queries about a new Supreme Court nominee to replace Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., who was defeated by the Senate; Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's criticism of the news media; White House relations with Congress generally, any possible new moves he may take to fight inflation and a host of other matters.

Air Power Keeps GI Losses Down

SAIGON (AP) — American air cavalrymen and airmen dogging North Vietnamese troops along a 100-mile stretch of the Cambodian border north of Saigon killed 170 of them in a dozen clashes over the weekend, military spokesmen said today.

Much of the attacking was done by rocket-firing helicopter gunships, dive-bombers and artillery, and as a result, U.S. casualties were held to three killed and 18 wounded, the spokesmen said.

The heaviest action occurred in War Zone C, 58 miles northwest of Saigon, and near the Bu Dop Special Forces camp 88 miles north of Saigon.

Official sources said the North Vietnamese were trying to protect the infiltration corridors from Cambodia, and several fights were triggered by enemy fire on scout helicopters flying at treetop level.

There were no reports of any helicopters being shot down.

About 40 American B52 bombers attacked North Vietnamese base camps and gun positions along the Cambodian border during the night, unloading more than 1,000 tons of explosives. The targets were 4½ miles northeast of the Bu Dop camp and within two miles of the Cambodian border.

The camp has been the target of sporadic shelling for more than a month. Five rockets hit the camp's airstrip Sunday, killing six Vietnamese and wounding 12 as they waited for helicopters. "Light" American casualties also were reported.

Despite the shelling, no major ground attack has been made on the camp. U.S. officers maintain that heavy B52 raids and constant air and ground reconnaissance by the 1st Air Cavalry have prevented the North Vietnamese from massing for such an attack.

The U.S. Command reported 4 enemy rocket and mortar attacks across South Vietnam from 8 a.m. Sunday to 8 a.m. today. Headquarters said only eight caused casualties or damage, and two Americans were killed and six were wounded.

Riot Trial Defense Set

CHICAGO (AP) — The defense takes over today in the trial of seven men charged with conspiring to cross state lines to incite rioting during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Defense Attorney William Kunstler said the first move would be to ask U.S. Dist. Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman for a directed verdict of acquittal.

The defense claims the government failed to prove that the defendants came into Illinois with the intention of fomenting violence.

During the prosecution's case—which began Sept. 24 and brought in 54 witnesses—the defense argued that the law under which the seven are charged—an amendment to the 1968 Civil Rights Act—is unconstitutional. They contend the law violates the defendants' First Amendment rights of free speech and peaceful assembly.

The prolonged trial is one of the most expensive ever held in Chicago. Sequestering the jury of 10 women and 2 men in a downtown hotel is costing $5,000 a week. The transcript of the trial is already nearly 10,000 pages long.

Car Accidents Keep Sheriff's Men Active

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department had a busy weekend as they investigated three one car injury accidents.

Earl C. Liston, 16, of Mt. Sterling told Deputy Bob Hoover he was westbound on Ballah Road Saturday at 5:30 p.m.

He looked at an approaching car on Ridgeway Road, lost control of his car, and hit a guard rail and bridge.

Liston suffered head and back injuries and was referred to his doctor.

Deputy Warren Straley investigated a single car accident Friday at 10 p.m. on the McLean-Mill Road.

Merle William Jarrell, 30, Morris Trailer Court, Circleville, told the deputy he failed to negotiate a curve and went into the ditch.

Jarrell was treated at Berger Hospital for lacerations of the mouth and chin.

The Circleville - Florence Chapel Pike was the scene of an accident Saturday at 6:45 p.m.

Harold E. Dowden, 27, Route 2, Circleville, told Deputy Bob Hoover he lost control of his car when it hit gravel as he entered a curve.

Dowden and his passengers, Linda Dowden, 23, Melissa Dowden, 7, and Lori Dowden, 4, were treated at Berger Hospital for minor contusions.

Clothing Stolen

Charles Glitt, 1101 S. Court St., told Circleville Police Saturday that two coats and a suitcase were taken from his car while it was parked behind the BPO Elks Lodge.

Urge Repeal Of Tonkin Resolution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Charles C. McMathias proposed today that Congress repeal the Gulf of Tonkin resolution, prod Saigon toward reform, and endorse President Nixon's "plan for accelerated withdrawal of all American forces from South Vietnam."

The Maryland Republican advocated those steps as part of a foreign policy resolution aimed at "clearing away the debris of cold war dogmas."

In a speech prepared for the Senate Mathias proposed repeal of a package of past congressional resolutions he said were "interpreted as relinquishing broad authority to the executive to intervene militarily around the world."

Mathias called the Tonkin measure, cited by former President Lyndon B. Johnson as authority for the step in U.S. involvement in Vietnam, as "the most questionable of all."

"As long as the resolution remains on the books it may be interpreted as authorizing further attacks," he said. "Yet American public opinion would not accept such a drastic step nor would the Congress ac-

OK Trading For Shadow Stocks Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Want to buy stock in a wall-o'-the-wisp company?

A couple of issues that fit that description — Commercial Finance Corp. of New Jersey and Pacific Fidelity Corp. of Nevada — are back on the over-the-counter market today.

The Securities and Exchange Commission suspended trading in Commercial Finance stock last March 12 after it was used in a series of deals that contributed to the collapse of several insurance companies. A Mafia loan shark was among those involved in the deals.

The SEC permitted trading to resume effective today, but cautioned brokers and potential buyers that Commercial Finance has "no known assets, operations or income, no officers, directors or offices."

Trading in Pacific Fidelity was suspended Aug. 18 because, the SEC said, "information currently being circulated about the company's assets and operations appears to be inaccurate and incomplete."

Not much has changed. In allowing trading to resume today, the SEC said it has been "unable to locate any current business offices of Pacific. The present whereabouts of officers or directors of the company and the existence of corporate books and records (including transfer records) are unknown."

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Donald Rumsfeld, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, says the vote in Congress on a two-year extension of the federal antipoverty act will be a close one.

Rumsfeld said Sunday that President Nixon fully supports him in opposing efforts to turn a major responsibility for the program to the states. But he said he didn't know if the administration could come up with the necessary votes.

He said the substitute bill offered in the House is very undesirable. But House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford said last week Nixon had voiced no opposition to the substitute.

Rumsfeld was interviewed on the CBS radio-television program, "Face the Nation."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Will R. Wilson said prosecutions are being initiated against more than 300 young men each month for re-

Tate Slaying Case Resumes In California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A fingerprint expert and the former leader of a band of motorcycle riders were among 15 witnesses called to testify today as a grand jury pressed its investigation into the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and six other persons.

The motorcyclist, Daniel di Carlo, reportedly lived for a time with Charles M. Manson's hippie-type desert clan, linked by police with the killing of the actress, two other women and four men.

The district attorney is seeking the indictment of Manson, 35, and other members of his group on murder and conspiracy charges.

Attorneys say no witness has accused Manson of being on the scene either when five died at Miss Tate's rented estate Aug. 9 or the following night when a market owner and his wife were killed.

Mason is in jail at Independence on a charge of possessing stolen cars.

Susan Denise Atkins, 21, another of the girls in the clan, gave the grand jury what officials described as key testimony when the inquiry opened Friday.

Miss Atkins, who has been accused of killing of a Malibu musician in a separate incident, has admitted, her lawyer said, that she went to the Tate house the night of the slayings at Manson's orders.

Another witness said Manson seemed harmless when he knew him a year ago.

"I found Charlie Manson to be a dedicated person, dedicated to taking care of the people camping with him," said Emmett Herder, a geologist who works a mine in the desert near the area Manson ranged.

Harder said he saw Manson and his followers many times in the group assessed him as clean and hard-working.

'Family' Head Former Inmate At Chillicothe

Charles M. Manson, wild-haired hypnotic leader of a wandering band of occult-oriented hippies known as the "family," was once an inmate of Federal Reformatory in Chillicothe.

He is presently expected to be indicted in California on charges of murder and conspiracy in the slayings of actress Sharon Tate and six others.

A report from the Los Angeles Times Syndicate indicates that Manson has spent most of his life in state and federal prisons and reformatories. He was paroled from the Chillicothe institution in 1954.

Shortly after his birth out of wedlock in Cincinnati in 1934, his 16-year-old mother was convicted of beating and robbing customers of riverside bars in Cincinnati.

According to reports, by the time Manson was 25, he had spent 13 years in reformatories and prisons.

inheritors and victims, not creators, of this Asian thralldom . . ."

In addition, Mathias said a state of national emergency dating from Dec. 16, 1950, during the Korean War, should be declared at an end.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don-

Edward M. Kennedy was smoothly narrating Prokofiev's "Peter and the Wolf" at a Christmas concert of the Washington National Symphony Sunday when a voice from the audience interrupted her.

"Hi, Mommy," yelled out her 2-year-old son, Patrick, several times after recognizing his mother on stage.

His mother smiled and attempted to continue but lost her place momentarily. She recovered and her husband, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., took Patrick on his lap and pacified him.

Bonn-Moscow Talks Start

MOSCOW (AP) — West Germany and the Soviet Union today began talks on a formal agreement to renounce the use of force against each other.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and West German Ambassador Helmut Altard opened the negotiations at the Foreign Ministry, an official German source reported.

With the opening of today's talks, the Soviet Union now is engaged in negotiations with the three countries that until recently have been its favorite propaganda targets—Communist China, the United States and West Germany.

U.S.-Soviet talks on the limitation of strategic weaponry are under way in Helsinki and Soviet-Chinese negotiations on border problems are in progress in Peking.

Soviet Ambassador Semyon Tsarapkin handed a note to the West German foreign office in Bonn Sunday, saying his government was ready to start the talks in Moscow today.

Stock List Down Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices continued to slip downward at noon today, with declining stocks stretching their lead over declines by 805 to 343 in moderate trading.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials—a blue-chip stock indicator—was off 4.49 at 788.54, after moving lower from the outset.

Analysts predicted the market would move lower in the near term, in the absence of news to lift investor spirits over continued tight money policies.

Glamor stocks, some of which have been at their lowest level in about 15 years were mixed.

Trading in Litton Industries was halted on the Big Board due to an influx of orders. The last trade was off 8 at 40 on an active turnover including a 25,000 share block. The company reported lower October quarter earnings.

Declining prices embraced such major categories as motors, mail order-retail, aircrafts, utilities, chemicals, rails, and oils. Steels and tobaccos were higher.

Of the 20 most-active stocks on the Big Board, 17 declined, 2 were unchanged, and Gulf Oil was the lone winner at 28 1/2, up 1-8.

On the American Stock Exchange, 9 of the 20 most-active issues declined, 6 advanced, and 5 were unchanged.

Driver Cited In WCH Span Collapse

A Bloomingburg man has been cited for reckless operation of a motor vehicle in Washington C. H.

His car struck upright supports of a bridge, triggering the complete collapse of the structure and creating a state of emergency within the city by the threat of a gas explosion.

Treated for forehead cuts and lacerations of both legs and released from Fayette Memorial Hospital in the city was Donald Whitmer, 31, driver of the car which struck the Sycamore St. bridge over Paint Creek in WCH about 7:15 p.m. Sunday.

A six-inch gas main, broken in the mishap was capped by gas company officials as firemen positioned themselves in the area in event of an explosion.

The car was found in four feet deep water about 12 feet below road level.

WCH City Manager Clarence Christman has declared a state of emergency on conditions of bridges and has called an emergency meeting with city council for authorization to have engineers check all bridges within the city.

The wrecked bridge is a steel overhead support bridge built in 1890.

A lawsuit is pending in U.S. District Court of Appeals on whether the city or county is responsible for bridges built by the county but incorporated into the city.

Lumber Firm Theft Solved

The Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff announced Monday that a grand larceny at Williamsport had been solved.

The robbery of the Wright Lumber Company was cleared up with the arrest of three young men from Washington Court House.

Washington Court House Police Department notified the local sheriff's department they had three boys in custody and the juveniles were in possession of some stolen property.

Deputy Bill Dountz and Warren Wright, owner of the lumber company, went to Court House where they interrogated the boys.

The youths admitted the robbery and directed the officers to one boy's home where the rest of the loot was recovered and returned to Pickaway County.

Regular Check-Ups

Have you had your regular chiropractic check-up?

Nearly everyone these days follows a routine practice of good common sense health care . . . THIS IS GOOD! Unfortunately, however, the importance of these regular check-ups are overlooked by some.

The question . . . Why chiropractic x-ray? . . . sometimes arises, and for those who do not fully understand more detailed clarification will be helpful. The purpose of this article is to present the complete case . . . to give you all the facts, so you can make your decision based on a full knowledge of the subject.

There are basically two major reasons why your chiropractor may recommend x-ray in the analysis of your case. They are:

PATHOLOGICAL . . . This means simply that your Doctor of Chiropractic feels that it is his responsibility to be certain there are no complications in your case which might prevent or delay your recovery. The x-ray is the best means by which he can "look inside" and determine the exact condition of the many parts of the body, and answer the question that occurs in every case . . . are there any fractures, bone disease, malformations, dislocations, etc.?

Car Accidents Keep Sheriff's Men Active

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department had a busy weekend as they investigated three one car injury accidents.

Earl C. Liston, 16, of Mt. Sterling told Deputy Bob Hoover he was westbound on Ballah Road Saturday at 5:30 p.m.

He looked at an approaching car on Ridgeway Road, lost control of his car, and hit a guard rail and bridge.

Liston suffered head and back injuries and was referred to his doctor.

Deputy Warren Straley investigated a single car accident Friday at 10 p.m. on the McLean-Mill Road.

Merle William Jarrell, 30, Morris Trailer Court, Circleville, told the deputy he failed to negotiate a curve and went into the ditch.

Jarrell was treated at Berger Hospital for lacerations of the mouth and chin.

The Circleville - Florence Chapel Pike was the scene of an accident Saturday at 6:45 p.m.

Harold E. Dowden, 27, Route 2, Circleville, told Deputy Bob Hoover he lost control of his car when it hit gravel as he entered a curve.

Dowden and his passengers, Linda Dowden, 23, Melissa Dowden, 7, and Lori Dowden, 4, were treated at Berger Hospital for minor contusions.

Clothing Stolen
Charles Glitt, 1101 S. Court St., told Circleville Police Saturday that two coats and a suitcase were taken from his car while it was parked behind the BPO Elks Lodge.

Urge Repeal Of Tonkin Resolution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Charles C. McMathias proposed today that Congress repeal the Gulf of Tonkin resolution, prod Saigon toward reform, and endorse President Nixon's "plan for accelerated withdrawal of all American forces from South Vietnam."

The Maryland Republican advocated those steps as part of a foreign policy resolution aimed at "clearing away the debris of cold war dogmas."

In a speech prepared for the Senate Mathias proposed repeal of a package of past congressional resolutions he said were "interpreted as relinquishing broad authority to the executive to intervene militarily around the world."

Mathias cited the Tonkin measure, cited by former President Lyndon B. Johnson as authority for the step in U.S. involvement in Vietnam, as "the most questionable of all."

"As long as the resolution remains on the books it may be interpreted as authorizing further attacks," he said. "Yet American public opinion would not accept such a drastic step nor would the Congress acquiesce in it."

Mathias said in his speech "we discover that in a very real sense, the war has Vietnamized American diplomacy."

"This is no criticism of our present leaders," the Republican senator said. "They are the inheritors and victims, not creators, of this Asian thralldom."

In addition, Mathias said a state of national emergency dating from Dec. 16, 1950, during the Korean War, should be declared at an end.

OK Trading For Shadow Stocks Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Want to buy stock in a wall-o'-the-wisp company?

A couple of issues that fit that description — Commercial Finance Corp. of New Jersey and Pacific Fidelity Corp. of Nevada — are back on the over-the-counter market today.

The Securities and Exchange Commission suspended trading in Commercial Finance stock last March 12 after it was used in a series of deals that contributed to the collapse of several insurance companies. A Mafia loan shark was among those involved in the deals.

The SEC permitted trading to resume effective today, but cautioned brokers and potential buyers that Commercial Finance has "no known assets, operations or income, no officers, directors or offices."

Trading in Pacific Fidelity was suspended Aug. 18 because, the SEC said, "information currently being circulated about the company's assets and operations appears to be inaccurate and incomplete."

Not much has changed. In allowing trading to resume today, the SEC said it has been "unable to locate any current business offices of Pacific. The present whereabouts of officers or directors of the company and the existence of corporate books and records (including transfer records) are unknown."

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Donald Rumsfeld, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, says the vote in Congress on a two-year extension of the federal antipoverty act will be a close one.

Rumsfeld said Sunday that President Nixon fully supports him in opposing efforts to turn major responsibility for the program to the states. But he said he didn't know if the administration could come up with the necessary votes.

He said the substitute bill offered in the House is very undesirable. But House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford said last week Nixon had voiced no opposition to the substitute.

Rumsfeld was interviewed on the CBS radio-television program, "Face the Nation."

Tate Slaying Case Resumes In California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A fingerprint expert and the former leader of a band of motorcycle riders were among 15 witnesses called to testify today as a grand jury pressed its investigation into the slaying of actress Sharon Tate and six other persons.

The motorcycleist, Daniel di Carlo, reportedly lived for a time with Charles M. Manson's hippie-type desert clan, linked by police with the killing of the actress, two other women and four men.

The district attorney is seeking the indictment of Manson, 35, and other members of his group on murder and conspiracy charges.

Attorneys say no witness has accused Manson of being on the scene either when five died at Miss Tate's rented estate Aug. 9 or the following night when a market owner and his wife were killed.

Mason is in jail at Independence on a charge of possessing stolen cars.

Susan Denise Atkins, 21, another of the girls in the clan, gave the grand jury what officials described as key testimony when the inquiry opened Friday.

Miss Atkins, who has been accused of killing of a Malibu musician in a separate incident, has admitted, her lawyer said, that she went to the Tate house the night of the slayings at Manson's orders.

Another witness said Manson seemed harmless when he knew him a year ago.

"I found Charlie Manson to be a dedicated person, dedicated to taking care of the people camping with him," said Emmett Harder, a geologist who works a mine in the desert near the area Manson ranged.

Harder said he saw Manson and his followers many times in the group assessed him as clean and hard-working.

'Family' Head Former Inmate At Chillicothe

Charles M. Manson, wild-haired hypnotic leader of a wandering band of occult-oriented hippies known as the "family," was once an inmate of Federal Reformatory in Chillicothe.

He is presently expected to be indicted in California on charges of murder and conspiracy in the slayings of actress Sharon Tate and six others.

A report from the Los Angeles Times Syndicate indicates that Manson has spent most of his life in state and federal prisons and reformatories. He was paroled from the Chillicothe institution in 1954.

Shortly after his birth out of wedlock in Cincinnati in 1934, his 16-year-old mother was convicted of beating and robbing customers of riverside bars in Cincinnati.

According to reports, by the time Manson was 25, he had spent 13 years in reformatories and prisons.

Lumber Firm Theft Solved

The Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff announced Monday that a grand larceny at Williamsport had been solved.

The robbery of the Wright Lumber Company was cleared up with the arrest of three young men from Washington Court House.

Washington Court House Police Department notified the local sheriff's department they had three boys in custody and the juveniles were in possession of some stolen property.

Deputy Bill Dountz and Warren Wright, owner of the lumber company, went to Court House where they interrogated the boys.

The youths admitted the robbery and directed the officers to one boy's home where the rest of the loot was recovered and returned to Pickaway County.

Bonn-Moscow Talks Start

MOSCOW (AP) — West Germany and the Soviet Union today began talks on a formal agreement to renounce the use of force against each other.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and West German Ambassador Helmut Alldorf opened the negotiations at the Foreign Ministry, an official German source reported.

With the opening of today's talks, the Soviet Union now is engaged in negotiations with the three countries that until recently have been its favorite propaganda targets—Communist China, the United States and West Germany.

U.S.-Soviet talks on the limitation of strategic weaponry are under way in Helsinki and Soviet-Chinese negotiations on border problems are in progress in Peking.

Soviet Ambassador Semyon Tsarapkin handed a note to the West German foreign office in Bonn Sunday, saying his government was ready to start the talks in Moscow today.

Stock List Down Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices continued to slip downward at noon today, with declining stocks stretching their lead over declines by 805 to 343 in moderate trading.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial—a blue-chip stock indicator—was off 4.49 at 788.54, after moving lower from the outset.

Analysts predicted the market would move lower in the near term, in the absence of news to lift investor spirits over continued tight money policies.

Glamor stocks, some of which have been at their lowest level in about 15 years were mixed.

Trading in Litton Industries was halted on the Big Board due to an influx of orders. The last trade was off 8 at 40 on an active turnover including a 25,000 share block. The company reported lower October quarter earnings.

Declining prices embraced such major categories as motors, mail order-retail, aircrafts, utilities, chemicals, rails, and oils. Steels and tobaccos were higher.

Of the 20 most-active stocks on the Big Board, 17 declined, 2 were unchanged, and Gulf Oil was the lone winner at 28 1/2, up 1-8.

On the American Stock Exchange, 9 of the 20 most-active issues declined, 6 advanced, and 5 were unchanged.

Driver Cited In WCH Span Collapse

A Bloomingburg man has been cited for reckless operation of a motor vehicle in Washington C. H.

His car struck upright supports of a bridge, triggering the complete collapse of the structure and creating a state of emergency within the city by the threat of a gas explosion.

Treated for forehead cuts and lacerations of both legs and released from Fayette Memorial Hospital in the city was Donald Whitmer, 31, driver of the car which struck the Sycamore St. bridge over Paint Creek in WCH about 7:15 p.m. Sunday. A six-inch gas main, broken in the mishap, was capped by gas company officials as firemen positioned themselves in the area in event of an explosion.

The car was found in four feet deep water about 12 feet below road level.

WCH City Manager Clarence Christman has declared a state of emergency on conditions of bridges and has called an emergency meeting with city council for authorization to have engineers check all bridges within the city.

The wrecked bridge is a steel overhead support bridge built in 1890.

A lawsuit is pending in U.S. District Court of Appeals on whether the city or county is responsible for bridges built by the county but incorporated into the city.

Sowle Hits Expansion Of Colleges

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Colleges should be able to accommodate a minimum of 5,000 students before they are converted from two-year to four-year campuses, says Ohio University President Claude R. Sowle.

Sowle said such conversions should be based on "careful education planning" rather than "political considerations."

Gov. James A. Rhodes recently announced plans to convert five two-year state colleges, including OU's Zanesville branch, into four-year institutions by 1973.

While acknowledging that there will be a need soon for more four-year colleges, Sowle said Saturday conversions based on political considerations will lead to "an educational hodge-podge which will deny future students the high quality education they deserve."

In order to create "sound" four-year schools out of two-year campuses, Sowle said the colleges should have full-time faculty members qualified to teach upper-division courses in a wide variety of areas, augmented state support for operating subsidies and capital funds, and housing units for students who do not wish to commute.

He expressed concern about suggestions that the four-year schools be essentially teachers colleges.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Hubby's Job Should Have Limits

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in a profession which caters to women. (It's a personal service, but please don't say what kind.) He is of Italian descent and speaks the language very well, although he was born and raised in the U.S.A.

One of his clients recently returned from a vacation in Rome. She is fiftyish and married to a rich man. She's very attractive and obviously a swinger because while in Rome she met and had an affair with an Italian. (Don't ask me how an American woman who can't speak Italian, and an Italian man who can't speak English ever got to this point, but they did.) Well, this woman got a love letter from this Italian man, and since it was written in Italian she asked my husband to translate it for her. He did. Then she dictated a letter to her lover in English, and my husband wrote it for her in Italian.

At first I thought this was funny, but I don't think it's funny anymore. (The Italian is also married.)

I told my husband I didn't think he should be doing this. He thinks I'm "square." What do you think?

"SQUARE"

DEAR "SQUARE": If you're "square", I want to be in all four of your corners.

DEAR ABBY: Lately my husband just loves to go to these discount stores to buy groceries for me. Abby, my kitchen cupboards are filled with things I have no use for. I would prefer to buy my own groceries as no one knows better than I what I need in my kitchen.

Also, lately, he won't allow me to wash his socks and underwear. He washes them out himself every night. I tell him I can do it like I always did, once a week, but he says I "lose" them for him! Now, Abby, I've been married to this man for nearly 40 years and I haven't lost any of his laundry yet.

We raised four nice children who are all married and gone now, and there are just the two of us home. He retired last year and this should be the happiest time of our lives, but his strange ways are making me nervous. What should I do? Don't tell me to send him to the doctor. If you could see him eat, you'd know he wasn't sick.

NERVOUS IN MAINE
DEAR NERVOUS: A "healthy appetite" doesn't necessarily indicate good mental health. Your husband's sudden "strange ways" could be a signal that there is something "wrong" with him. By all means, get him to a doctor for a thorough examination from the neck both ways.

DEAR ABBY: I usually agree with your advice, but not when you told the woman whose husband beat her up a lot, "Any woman who sticks around to let her husband beat her up whenever he feels like it is sicker than he is."

I ought to know because I was a prisoner of such a husband for 12 years. He was crazy jealous over nothing and put me in the hospital more times than I care to remember. I couldn't take it any more, and I finally got up the nerve to leave him.

He found me, put one bullet in my hip, one in my leg, and then he killed himself. I survived, and hope to raise my three wonderful children.

But I just want you to know, Abby, that there are some men you CAN'T leave. And a peace warrant is no use to a dead woman.

THE VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

DEAR VOICE: It's better to seek protection for yourself and your children than to live in fear of your life and to be continually abused by such a man. True, a peace warrant is no use to a dead woman, but being the prisoner of a maniac is no life either.

CONFIDENTIAL TO EARL: Money IS important. But only because it enables you to buy the things that are more important than money.

College Students Go All Out To Raise Cash For Library

HARRISONBURG, Va. (AP) — The campus of Eastern Mennonite College was in turmoil for the third day in a row today, but not a soul was complaining.

Coeds poised for invasion of the home economics building and a final assault on their goal of baking hundreds of pies, cakes and cookies by nightfall.

Male students girded for penetration of the town and countryside to chop wood, wash cars, clean up yards, do odd repairs, and knock on doors for donations.

It all began Friday when college trustees announced they were $110,000 short of the $100,000 needed to approve plans for a new $1.5 million college library. Tonight was the deadline the trustees had set for the fund-raising.

By early Saturday, the word was out and so were the students, all 950 of them, all over town.

One man paid $1,000 to a student for chopping wood. Several others agreed to have their cars washed and waxed for $200.

Coeds became housemaids. Male students became butlers and yardmen. A few even hired out as singing messengers.

By 1 a.m. today, the drive had netted $54,000, a college spokesman said.

Efforts were to be redoubled today and would be capped with a three hour auction sale on campus tonight. That's when all those pies, cakes and cookies, as well as hundreds of items donated by students and townsfolk, will go on the block.

Girl Working Her Way Through College With Dogs

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mary Leisner is working her way through college by growing pups. In a two-room apartment. Right now she has 12 Afghan hounds and an Irish Setter. "Lots of students find classes and lectures a chore. I find them a welcome relief," says Mary, a slender blonde sophomore at the University of Pennsylvania.

She started breeding and selling Afghans in August 1968 and paid a semester's tuition with her first litter. The pups bring about $200 each.

"I didn't learn until mid-August that my tuition loan was phased out in the federal education cutback," Mary says. "and there weren't too many ways I could come up with $1,000 on short notice."

"They are work," she says. "Puppies need a lot of attention. My studies are suffering. So am I. It's costing about $50 a week to feed them."

The 10 pups are barricaded in the bathroom with a 3½-foot-tall street sign nailed to the doorway. Mary and her sister use a wooden milk carton to boost themselves in and out.

Some problems Mary didn't count on: One night the pups got into fabric dye and all turned green. Another time they closed the bathtub drain and flooded the place. And then there was the hamper raid.

"Guess I'm lucky the bathroom is large," Mary says. "It's what separates me from insanity."

Sometimes, the pups are allowed the freedom of the living room.

"They get exercise and learn to play and defend themselves romping around with the bigger dogs," she says, following them around with wads of tissue to clean up.

"I'm two years from my degree and how I hope a federal loan comes through next year."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Hubby's Job Should Have Limits

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in a profession which caters to women. (It's a personal service, but please don't say what kind.) He is of Italian descent and speaks the language very well, although he was born and raised in the U.S.A.

One of his clients recently returned from a vacation in Rome. She is fiftyish and married to a rich man. She's very attractive and obviously a swinger because while in Rome she met and had an affair with an Italian. (Don't ask me how an American woman who can't speak Italian, and an Italian man who can't speak English ever got to this point, but they did.) Well, this woman got a love letter from this Italian man, and since it was written in Italian she asked my husband to translate it for her. He did. Then she dictated a letter to her lover in English, and my husband wrote it for her in Italian.

At first I thought this was funny, but I don't think it's funny anymore. (The Italian is also married.)

I told my husband I didn't think he should be doing this. He thinks I'm "square." What do you think?

"SQUARE"

DEAR "SQUARE": If you're "square," I want to be in all four of your corners.

DEAR ABBY: Lately my husband just loves to go to these discount stores to buy groceries for me. Abby, my kitchen cupboards are filled with things I have no use for. I would prefer to buy my own groceries as no one knows better than I what I need in my kitchen.

Also, lately, he won't allow me to wash his socks and underwear. He washes them out himself every night. I tell him I can do it like I always did, once a week, but he says I "lose" them for him! Now, Abby, I've been married to this man for nearly 40 years and I haven't lost any of his laundry yet.

We raised four nice children who are all married and gone now, and there are just the two of us home. He retired last year and this should be the happiest time of our lives, but his strange ways are making me nervous. What should I do? Don't tell me to send him to the doctor. If you could see him eat, you'd know he wasn't sick.

NERVOUS IN MAINE

DEAR NERVOUS: A "healthy appetite" doesn't necessarily indicate good mental health. Your husband's sudden "strange ways" could be a signal that there is something "wrong" with him. By all means, get him to a doctor for a thorough examination from the neck both ways.

DEAR ABBY: I usually agree with your advice, but not when you told the woman whose husband beat her up a lot, "Any woman who sticks around to let her husband beat her up whenever he feels like it is sicker than he is."

I ought to know because I was a prisoner of such a husband for 12 years. He was crazy jealous over nothing and put me in the hospital more times than I care to remember. I couldn't take it any more, and I finally got up the nerve to leave him.

He found me, put one bullet in my hip, one in my leg, and then he killed himself. I survived, and hope to raise my three wonderful children.

But I just want you to know, Abby, that there are some men you CAN'T leave. And a peace warrant is no use to a dead woman.

THE VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

IN ALABAMA
DEAR VOICE: It's better to seek protection for yourself and your children than to live in fear of your life and to be continually abused by such a man. True, a peace warrant is no use to a dead woman, but being the prisoner of a maniac is no life either.

CONFIDENTIAL TO EARL: Money is important. But only because it enables you to buy the things that are more important than money.

College Students Go All Out To Raise Cash For Library

HARRISONBURG, Va. (AP) — The campus of Eastern Mennonite College was in turmoil for the third day in a row today, but not a soul was complaining.

Coeds poised for invasion of the home economics building and a final assault on their goal of baking hundreds of pies, cakes and cookies by nightfall.

Male students girded for penetration of the town and countryside to chop wood, wash cars, clean up yards, do odd repairs, and knock on doors for donations.

It all began Friday when college trustees announced they were $110,000 short of the $100,000 needed to approve plans for a new $1.5 million college library. Tonight was the deadline the trustees had set for the fund-raising.

By early Saturday, the word was out and so were the students, all 950 of them, all over town.

One man paid $1,000 to a student for chopping wood. Several others agreed to have their cars washed and waxed for $200.

Coeds became housemaids. Male students became butlers and yardmen. A few even hired out as singing messengers.

By 1 a.m. today, the drive had netted $54,000, a college spokesman said.

Efforts were to be redoubled today and would be capped with a three hour auction sale on campus tonight. That's when all those pies, cakes and cookies, as well as hundreds of items donated by students and townsfolk, will go on the block.

Arms Moves Encouraging

It is too early to be optimistic about the chances the major powers will come to an agreement soon on the limitation of armaments, but more has happened toward that end in recent days than for a long time previously.

With both the Soviet Union and the United States, signing the non-proliferation treaty, something of a milestone was reached toward the day when the possession of these weapons by numerous countries which do not yet have them can be halted. But with 19 more signatures needed on the treaty before it can become effective, and with France and Red China — two holders of the atom bomb — refusing to sign, the road ahead is still not easy.

Of more immediate consequence was the President's denunciation of chemical and biological weapons in warfare, and his announcement the United States would not be the first to use them in any future conflict.

As for the talks in Helsinki on a nuclear arms limitation treaty, so much depends upon the attitudes of the participants the most that can be said now is that a start has been made.

Remembering the years which have gone by with no action toward armaments controls, the recent events add up to exciting promises. The work ahead on all fronts will be tedious and time-consuming. But a willingness to go beyond the first steps may yet lead to a peaceful world.

Purge Continues

By replacing 62 members of the Czechoslovak parliament with men of their own selection, the Russians have completed the purge of top government officials in that captive state. How much further down the line the Soviet oppressors will feel compelled to go before they consider themselves secure once again only coming months will tell.

The stage is set for a wholesale bloodbath against the thousands of Czechs and Slovaks who dared show support for former Premier Dubcek and his modest reforms. A world impotent in the face of Soviet aggressions can only hope the history of Hungary and other satellite states is not completed in Czechoslovakia.

All resistance has not ceased. The workers have been on a slowdown strike ever since Dubcek was deposed, and shortages are reported in a number of commodities.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Price cutting in the retail banking industry has broken out in many sections of the country, with some banks dropping entirely their service charges on personal checking accounts.

The situation is viewed by bankers as extraordinary and perhaps unprecedented, and by consumers as a welcome exception to the general rule of higher and higher prices.

Banks have in the past been stiff competitors but seldom in the area of prices. Instead, customers have been attracted by convenient offices, by parking spaces, drive-in windows or give-aways.

Prices for loans and checking account services generally settled at a uniform rate that could be obtained from most banks in a locality. Price cutting, as practiced in other businesses, was almost unknown.

A study by the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston shows that traditional marketing ideas are being upset, primarily by the trend to lower or dropped service charges on checking accounts.

Over the period of a year such charges can run from a few dollars for inactive accounts to $50 or more for accounts with considerable turnover. The loss of such revenue, some bankers believe, will seriously erode profits.

The cut-rate checking accounts began to appear in 1964 in Massachusetts and Connecticut, but have spread in a spotted pattern from coast to coast and border to border.

The Boston bank's study shows that much of the price-cutting competition comes from new banks anxious to build up their deposits. To them, the money to be made on checking accounts is of less concern than attaining sizeable deposits that can be invested profitably in loans, bonds and real estate.

Reluctantly, the larger and more established banks are forced to cut the prices of their checking account services or face the loss of customers. Some banks have decided on the latter course as the more sensible.

In most instances, the price cutting has not eliminated all charges. Many banks insist that a minimum balance be maintained in the account. Others offer free checking with no minimum balance only to customers who maintain a savings account with the bank.

Ironically, the low-cost checking accounts began to sweep the country at a time when banks began to suspect they were not clearing enough from checking accounts to cover bookkeeping costs.

In reducing charges at a time when financial studies indicated that increases were in order, the banks apparently dug themselves into a deeper hole. But with competition for funds keen as it is, they have little choice.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE BASEBALL team representing a certain high school in Oregon suffered a double indignity one day last spring. Not only did the scheduled opponents fail to show up, but the cheerleaders of the missing team volunteered to fill in for them—and beat the home team 14 to 2!

The late W. C. Fields was never particularly subtle or considerate in dealing with his various lady friends — most of whom were so scared of him that they suffered innumerable indignities in silence. Not so with one spirited companion. After a spat, she locked herself in his bathroom and knowing how he detested grand opera, proceeded to sing a series of arias at the top of her lungs. Fields retaliated by burning newspapers and his favorite chair and blowing the smoke under the door. She refused to surrender, however, and finally Fields had to apologize and promise her a new dress. She emerged in triumph, with Fields reluctantly conceding to Gene Fowler, a bemused onlooker, "The damn woman's got guts!"

Jack Benny, who has raised over five million dollars at benefits for musicians and musical scholarships, plays the violin faithfully but with frequent wanderings from the correct pitch. After one of his more venturesome solos, an anguished lady exclaimed, "My God, he's lost an ear!" Ever since Benny likes to refer to himself as "the Van Gogh of the violin."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Does a positive tuberculin test mean that a child has tuberculosis or is more susceptible to getting it?

Mrs. M.B., Maryland
Dear Mrs. B.: The tuberculin test is used almost routinely in children who are about to go to school. A positive test does not mean that there is any active tuberculosis. It may mean that the child or the adult may have, at some period of his life, been infected or exposed to the disease.

The test is an important one, but the true diagnosis of tuberculosis is made by examination of the sputum seeking the tubercle bacillus, the germ that causes this disease. X-rays of the lungs, of course, should be taken at regular intervals if ever there is a positive tuberculin reaction. This is a safety factor and should not cause you concern that the disease is present or will necessarily occur.

Let me take advantage at this time to state that tuberculosis is by no means an extinct disease. The antibiotics and other drugs can now control this infectious condition to a better degree. Board of health officials constantly warn that tuberculosis can and does occur in people of all social levels.

In order to be controlled, tuberculosis must be recognized early. It is for this reason that mobile X-ray units span the country inviting X-ray checkups of people for their greater safety.

Are weight reducing pills habit-forming? Are they dangerous if they are taken over a long period of time?

Miss Y.L., North Carolina
Dear Miss L.: They most certainly are habit-forming. Almost all of these contain amphetamine. This is the major ingredient in the "pep pills" which are included in the general problem of drug abuse.

Any drug taken under the supervision of a doctor is not dangerous even after a period of time. Unfortunately, patients sometimes overlook the potential hazards of a drug and continue to take it long after the doctor has recommended it.

Many young adults and mature adults become severely dependent on these drugs after their original use to control weight has been exhausted. The "pep pill" habit develops in some people because of the exhilarating kick that the drugs give to the nervous system. Doctors are careful about writing prescriptions. Patients, too, must watch out for a slow but steady dependence.

Everyone talks about losing weight but nobody seems to bother about us skinny ones. What's the best way for an adult who weighs 99 pounds to put on some weight?

Mrs. D.D., Wisconsin
Dear Mrs. D.: What a happy thought I just had! I will indulge my fantasy in what I would eat if I, too, did not have, in a moderate measure, America's least favorite social disorder, obesity. Eating four or five meals a day is probably the best way to put on weight.

The food should be high in calories with all the forbidden foods (for us) such as rich desserts, butter and cream, bread and potatoes galore. Sometimes appetite-stimulating medicine is suggested by the physician. Freedom from emotional disturbances at mealtimes makes eating of this sort easier. Hundreds of my readers are going to be awfully jealous of you.

Biafra Remains The Worst

BY JOE N. CHAMBERLAIN

The late Senator Robert Taft was critical of the Nuremberg trials, arguing that the prosecutor should not also be the judge. One can see why Taft was so concerned. No nation ever emerges from a war with clean hands. If the Allies had lost World War II, they would surely have had trouble in court trying to justify the bombing of Dresden. The Soviets could have been hung for the massacre of the Polish officers in the Katyn Forest. Pearl Harbor was a moral blot on the Japanese; but Hiroshima stains our own record. And now if the prejudgment stands up, there is Songmy to put against Hue.

The great powers, seeking political advantage from the moral lapses of others, turn to a diplomacy of hypocrisy. And nobody here is better or worse than anybody else.

The case of Biafra makes all the great nations look sick. It is almost too much to comprehend. Maybe one has to be touched by personal tragedy to have feelings about it. At any rate the strongest voice speaking out in the U. S. Senate on the Biafra tragedy is that of Senator Edward Kennedy. The Russians and the British have supported the central Nigerian government in its efforts to end the secession of Biafra. The U.S., not wishing to offend either London or Moscow, has followed a hands-off policy. The UN, as Kennedy has said, "chooses silence over leadership." Hypocrites, all of us.

Before the handwringing began over Songmy, Senator Kennedy tried valiantly to spark some Senatorial action on Biafra. For months, so he told his colleagues, the survival of three million persons, mainly women and children, in Biafra had depended on mercy airlifts operated by the International Committee of the Red Cross and Joint Church Aid. But since last June the Red Cross has not been able to get into Biafra. Joint Church Aid still sticks at it, but can't do much. The combatants can't arrive at a mercy agreement. So, as Kennedy says, the death rate "stands at nearly 2,000 a day, according to some reports." The "2,000 a day" have to be added to the 1,500,000 persons who have died from starvation since 1968 in this totally unnecessary African struggle.

Teddy Kennedy says he is "distressed to learn that what we are prepared to do is apparently measured more by what the federal Nigerian government is willing to tolerate, than by the maximum capabilities of Joint Church Aid in delivering food and medicine into the Biafran enclave." Americans for Biafran Relief, an organization that has attracted sponsors from both the liberal and the conservative sides of the fence, is currently trying to raise $9 million to enable Joint Church Aid to fly food and medicine into Biafra.

It is hard to know why the British and the Russians care whether Nigeria is one country or two countries. If the Biafrans want to live by themselves, or to work out a federated arrangement with neighboring African states, why not let them? There is no virtue in centralization for its own sake. Can oil diplomacy be at the back of the British engagement on the Nigerian side of the struggle? Recently there were reports of Biafran attacks on the Shell - British Petroleum consortium that has been extracting most of Nigeria's oil. Do the Soviets need Nigerian docks to service the ships they send around the Cape of Good Hope to help sustain the North Vietnamese in their fight to end the freedom of South Vietnam?

If oil and naval rights explain the British - Soviet united front against independence for Biafra, what explains the U.S. refusal to speak out in the United Nations? With our Alaskan discoveries we don't need Nigerian oil. And the use which the Russians have been making of Nigeria to break the long trip to Haiphong in North Vietnam should make us deeply angry.

Senator Kennedy is specially concerned about some of the projects in our AID requests for Nigeria. The AID demands for fiscal 1970 include "the rebuilding of key road sections" as a part of "short-term rehabilitation assistance to federal Nigeria." The road section repair would enable the Nigerian government to move troops more easily against the Biafran enclave. Is this our business? Must we help prolong one war while we are so desperately trying to terminate another?

'Gunsmoke' Hits No. 1

By BOB THOMAS
AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Once given up for dead, "Gunsmoke" has turned into a television series of amazing liveliness. When a 16-year-old show turns up No. 1 in the television ratings, that's a remarkable achievement. But then "Gunsmoke" has a record of doing what seems to be impossible.

This year was the acid test. Not only did the veteran series face the upstart "Laugh-In" during its last half-hour, it also was forced to contend with Operation Holddown, the industry's reaction to the nation's outcry against televised violence.

"Gunsmoke" has never been a polite show. Part of its appeal was the no-nonsense portrayal of the West as a place where the gun and fist provided the balance of power.

The political assassinations of 1968 brought a crackdown on violence in television, and "Gunsmoke" had to discard many of its customary devices.

"This season has been the toughest we've ever faced," remarked Jon Mantley, executive producer. "I've been in my office night after night until 11 o'clock trying to find and develop scripts without violence. That's not easy, when you're dealing in a time and place in which violence was the rule."

"Gunsmoke isn't the same show that it was three years ago. Now we're doing a sleight of hand. It is presumably a western, but it is actually gutsy drama that could take place anywhere. We cover a wide range, from the broadest farce to melodrama."

Whatever the travails to Mantley and company, the extra effort is paying off. "Gunsmoke" was No. 1 in a recent week equalling its ratings during its heyday as the king of Saturday night. And this was the series that was killed by CBS in 1967 in a power play that has never been fully explained. The death sentence lasted only two weeks, during which CBS stations in the Midwest let the network know in plain words that they did not want "Gunsmoke" dropped.

Arms Moves Encouraging

It is too early to be optimistic about the chances the major powers will come to an agreement soon on the limitation of armaments, but more has happened toward that end in recent days than for a long time previously.

With both the Soviet Union and the United States signing the non-proliferation treaty, something of a milestone was reached toward the day when the possession of these weapons by numerous countries which do not yet have them can be halted. But with 13 more signatures needed on the treaty before it can become effective, and with France and Red China — two holders of the atom bomb — refusing to sign, the road ahead is still not easy.

Of more immediate consequence was the President's denunciation of chemical and biological weapons in warfare, and his announcement the United States would not be the first to use them in any future conflict.

As for the talks in Helsinki on a nuclear arms limitation treaty, so much depends upon the attitudes of the participants the most that can be said now is that a start has been made.

Remembering the years which have gone by with no action toward armaments controls, the recent events add up to exciting promises. The work ahead on all fronts will be tedious and time-consuming. But a willingness to go beyond the first steps may yet lead to a peaceful world.

Purge Continues

By replacing 62 members of the Czechoslovak parliament with men of their own selection, the Russians have completed the purge of top government officials in that captive state. How much further down the line the Soviet oppressors will feel compelled to go before they consider themselves secure once again only coming months will tell.

The stage is set for a wholesale bloodbath against the thousands of Czechs and Slovaks who dared show support for former Premier Dubcek and his modest reforms. A world impotent in the face of Soviet aggressions can only hope the history of Hungary and other satellite states is not completed in Czechoslovakia.

All resistance has not ceased. The workers have been on a slowdown strike ever since Dubcek was deposed, and shortages are reported in a number of commodities.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Price cutting in the retail banking industry has broken out in many sections of the country, with some banks dropping entirely their service charges on personal checking accounts.

The situation is viewed by bankers as extraordinary and perhaps unprecedented, and by consumers as a welcome exception to the general rule of higher and higher prices.

Banks have in the past been stiff competitors but seldom in the area of prices. Instead, customers have been attracted by convenient offices, by parking spaces, drive-in windows or give-aways.

Prices for loans and checking account services generally settled at a uniform rate that could be obtained from most banks in a locality. Price cutting, as practiced in other businesses, was almost unknown.

A study by the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston shows that traditional marketing ideas are being upset, primarily by the trend to lower or dropped service charges on checking accounts.

Over the period of a year such charges can run from a few dollars for inactive accounts to $50 or more for accounts with considerable turnover. The loss of such revenue, some bankers believe, will seriously erode profits.

The cut-rate checking accounts began to appear in 1964 in Massachusetts and Connecticut, but have spread in a spotted pattern from coast to coast and border to border.

The Boston bank's study shows that much of the price-cutting competition comes from new banks anxious to build up their deposits. To them, the money to be made on checking accounts is of less concern than attaining sizeable deposits that can be invested profitably in loans, bonds and real estate.

Reluctantly, the larger and more established banks are forced to cut the prices of their checking account services or face the loss of customers. Some banks have decided on the latter course as the more sensible.

In most instances, the price cutting has not eliminated all charges. Many banks insist that a minimum balance be maintained in the account. Others offer free checking with no minimum balance only to customers who maintain a savings account with the bank.

Ironically, the low-cost checking accounts began to sweep the country at a time when banks began to suspect they were not clearing enough from checking accounts to cover bookkeeping costs.

In reducing charges at a time when financial studies indicated that increases were in order, the banks apparently dug themselves into a deeper hole. But with competition for funds keen as it is, they have little choice.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE BASEBALL team representing a certain high school in Oregon suffered a double indignity one day last spring. Not only did the scheduled opponents fail to show up, but the cheerleaders of the missing team volunteered to fill in for them—and beat the home team 14 to 2!

The late W. C. Fields was never particularly subtle or considerate in dealing with his various lady friends — most of whom were so scared of him that they suffered innumerable indignities in silence. Not so with one spirited companion. After a spat, she locked herself in his bathroom and knowing how he detested grand opera, proceeded to sing a series of arias at the top of her lungs. Fields retaliated by burning newspapers and his favorite chair and blowing the smoke under the door. She refused to surrender, however, and finally Fields had to apologize and promise her a new dress. She emerged in triumph, with Fields reluctantly conceding to Gene Fowler, a bemused onlooker, "The damn woman's got guts!"

Jack Benny, who has raised over five million dollars at benefits for musicians and musical scholarships, plays the violin faithfully but with frequent wanderings from the correct pitch. After one of his more venturesome solos, an anguished lady exclaimed, "My God, he's lost an ear!" Ever since Benny likes to refer to himself as "the Van Gogh of the violin."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Does a positive tuberculin test mean that a child has tuberculosis or is more susceptible to getting it?

Mrs. M.B., Maryland
Dear Mrs. B.: The tuberculin test is used almost routinely in children who are about to go to school. A positive test does not mean that there is any active tuberculosis. It may mean that the child or the adult may have, at some period of his life, been infected or exposed to the disease.

The test is an important one, but the true diagnosis of tuberculosis is made by examination of the sputum seeking the tubercle bacillus, the germ that causes this disease. X-rays of the lungs, of course, should be taken at regular intervals if ever there is a positive tuberculin reaction. This is a safety factor and should not cause you concern that the disease is present or will necessarily occur.

Let me take advantage at this time to state that tuberculosis is by no means an extinct disease. The antibiotics and other drugs can now control this infectious condition to a better degree. Board of health officials constantly warn that tuberculosis can and does occur in people of all social levels.

In order to be controlled, tuberculosis must be recognized early. It is for this reason that mobile X-ray units span the country inviting X-ray checkups of people for their greater safety.

Are weight reducing pills habit-forming? Are they dangerous if they are taken over a long period of time?

Miss Y.L., North Carolina
Dear Miss L.: They most certainly are habit-forming. Almost all of these contain amphetamine. This is the major ingredient in the "pep pills" which are included in the general problem of drug abuse.

Any drug taken under the supervision of a doctor is not dangerous even after a period of time. Unfortunately, patients sometimes overlook the potential hazards of a drug and continue to take it long after the doctor has recommended it.

Many young adults and mature adults become severely dependent on these drugs after their original use to control weight has been exhausted. The "pep pill" habit develops in some people because of the exhilarating kick that the drugs give to the nervous system. Doctors are careful about writing prescriptions. Patients, too, must watch out for a slow but steady dependence.

Everyone talks about losing weight but nobody seems to bother about us skinny ones. What's the best way for an adult who weighs 99 pounds to put on some weight?

Mrs. D.D., Wisconsin
Dear Mrs. D.: What a happy thought I just had! I will indulge my fantasy in what I would eat if I, too, did not have, in a moderate measure, America's least favorite social disorder, obesity. Eating four or five meals a day is probably the best way to put on weight.

The food should be high in calories with all the forbidden foods (for us) such as rich desserts, butter and cream, bread and potatoes galore. Sometimes appetite-stimulating medicine is suggested by the physician. Freedom from emotional disturbances at mealtimes makes eating of this sort easier. Hundreds of my readers are going to be awfully jealous of you.

Biafra Remains The Worst

BY JOE N. CHAMBERLAIN

The late Senator Robert Taft was critical of the Nuremberg trials, arguing that the prosecutor should not also be the judge. One can see why Taft was so concerned. No nation ever emerges from a war with clean hands. If the Allies had lost World War II, they would surely have had trouble in court trying to justify the bombing of Dresden. The Soviets could have been hung for the massacre of the Polish officers in the Katyn Forest, Pearl Harbor was a moral blot on the Japanese; but Hiroshima stains our own record. And now if the prejudgment stands up, there is Songmy to put against Hue.

The great powers, seeking political advantage from the moral lapses of others, turn to a diplomacy of hypocrisy. And nobody here is better or worse than anybody else.

The case of Biafra makes all the great nations look sick. It is almost too much to comprehend. Maybe one has to be touched by personal tragedy to have feelings about it. At any rate the strongest voice speaking out in the U. S. Senate on the Biafra tragedy is that of Senator Edward Kennedy. The Russians and the British have supported the central Nigerian government in its efforts to end the secession of Biafra. The U.S., not wishing to offend either London or Moscow, has followed a hands-off policy. The UN, as Kennedy has said, "chooses silence over leadership." Hypocrites, all of us.

Before the handwringing began over Songmy, Senator Kennedy tried valiantly to spark some Senatorial action on Biafra. For months, so he told his colleagues, the survival of three million persons, mainly women and children, in Biafra had depended on mercy airlifts operated by the International Committee of the Red Cross and Joint Church Aid. But since last June the Red Cross has not been able to get into Biafra. Joint Church Aid still sticks at it, but can't do much. The combatants can't arrive at a mercy agreement. So, as Kennedy says, the death rate "stands at nearly 2,000 a day, according to some reports." The "2,000 a day" have to be added to the 1,500,000 persons who have died from starvation since 1968 in this totally unnecessary African struggle.

Teddy Kennedy says he is "distressed to learn that what we are prepared to do is apparently measured more by what the federal Nigerian government is willing to tolerate, than by the maximum capabilities of Joint Church Aid in delivering food and medicine into the Biafran enclave." Americans for Biafran Relief, an organization that has attracted sponsors from both the liberal and the conservative sides of the fence, is currently trying to raise $9 million to enable Joint Church Aid to fly food and medicine into Biafra.

It is hard to know why the British and the Russians care whether Nigeria is one country or two countries. If the Biafrans want to live by themselves, or to work out a federated arrangement with neighboring African states, why not let them? There is no virtue in centralization for its own sake.

Can oil diplomacy be at the back of the British engagement on the Nigerian side of the struggle? Recently there were reports of Biafran attacks on the Shell-British Petroleum consortium that has been extracting most of Nigeria's oil. Do the Soviets need Nigerian docks to service the ships they send around the Cape of Good Hope to help sustain the North Vietnamese in their fight to end the freedom of South Vietnam?

If oil and naval rights explain the British-Soviet united front against independence for Biafra, what explains the U.S. refusal to speak out in the United Nations? With our Alaskan discoveries we don't need Nigerian oil. And the use which the Russians have been making of Nigeria to break the long trip to Haiphong in North Vietnam should make us deeply angry.

Senator Kennedy is specially concerned about some of the projects in our AID requests for Nigeria. The AID demands for fiscal 1970 include "the rebuilding of key road sections" as part of "short-term rehabilitation assistance to federal Nigeria." The road section repair would enable the Nigerian government to move troops more easily against the Biafran enclave. Is this our business? Must we help prolong one war while we are so desperately trying to terminate another?

Charge Pair With Conspiracy To Kill, Bomb

NEW YORK (AP) — Two men arrested in Columbus, Ohio, on warrants from New York charging them with conspiring to murder police officers and bomb police stations and department stores were returned here Sunday.

William King Jr. and Lee Roper, both of Manhattan, were booked on charges of conspiracy to commit murder, attempted murder and first-degree arson. Authorities here said they are believed to have been involved in an alleged plot by Black Panthers to bomb five midtown department stores last April during the height of the Easter shopping rush.

King, 31, and Roper, 20, lived in Cleveland and Columbus while in Ohio. They were arrested last month by FBI agents.

'Gunsmoke' Hits No. 1

By BOB THOMAS
AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Once given up for dead, "Gunsmoke" has turned into a television series of amazing liveliness.

When a 16-year-old show turns up No. 1 in the television ratings, that's a remarkable achievement. But then "Gunsmoke" has a record of doing what seems to be impossible.

This year was the acid test. Not only did the veteran series face the upstart "Laugh-In" during its last half-hour, it also was forced to contend with Operation Holddown, the industry's reaction to the nation's outcry against televised violence.

"Gunsmoke" has never been a polite show. Part of its appeal was the non-sensory portrayal of the West as a place where the gun and fist provided the balance of power.

The political assassinations of 1968 brought a crackdown on violence in television, and "Gunsmoke" had to discard many of its customary devices.

"This season has been the toughest we've ever faced," remarked Jon Mantley, executive producer. "I've been in my office night after night until 11 o'clock trying to find and develop scripts without violence. That's not easy, when you're dealing in a time and place in which violence was the rule."

"Gunsmoke isn't the same show that it was three years ago. Now we're doing a sleight of hand. It is presumably a western, but it is actually gutsy drama that could take place anywhere. We cover a wide range, from the broadest farce to melodrama."

Whatever the travails to Mantley and company, the extra effort is paying off. "Gunsmoke" was No. 1 in a recent week equalling its ratings during its heyday as the king of Saturday night. And this was the series that was killed by CBS in 1967 in a power play that has never been fully explained. The death sentence lasted only two weeks, during which CBS stations in the Midwest let the network know in plain words that they did not want "Gunsmoke" dropped.

U.S. Asks Postponement Of Arms Talks; No Balk

HELSINKI (AP) — The eighth working session of the U.S. — Soviet Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, scheduled for today, was postponed at the request of the U.S. delegation.

The U.S. request seemed sure to give rise to speculation that trouble had developed in the talks, although an American spokesman insisted this was not the case. He said the session was postponed over the weekend by mutual agreement because "we did not have the required information."

The spokesman declined to explain further but said the session probably would be held tomorrow. There is "no issue, no setback," he insisted.

There was no public inkling of the postponement until the U.S. delegation failed to show up at the Soviet embassy this morning.

The U.S. and Soviet delegations have agreed not to give out substantive information about the talks, making it impossible to know whether the public displays of good will are backed by any real progress toward agreement on specific points.

The talks are supposed to be working out arrangements for substantive negotiations on limitation of the two superpowers' nuclear arsenals. Conference sources had predicted that these preliminary talks would end in a week or 10 days with agreement to hold full-scale talks early in the new year.

The last working session was held Friday, but the two delegations saw each other Saturday at a ball given by President Urho Kekkonen for Finnish Independence Day.

The chief U.S. and Soviet delegates, Gerard Smith and Vladimir Semenov, chatted at length and amiably with each other, and other members of the two delegations spent much time together at the ball and seemed to be on the best of terms.

Rhodes OKs Avco Plan For Debates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes, seeking a Nixon-Kennedy type debate with his fellow senate candidate, agreed Sunday to a similar format proposed by the Avco Broadcasting Co.

U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati has not replied to the proposal made in telegrams this week from Avco President John Murphy.

Murphy said that Rhodes and Taft could choose to debate either an hour or half an hour at two different sessions with no questions asked by newsmen or anyone else. A moderator would be on hand to keep time.

The candidates would draw to see who speaks first at the first session and that person would choose the debate topics. The second speaker would talk first at the next debate and select topics. The debates would be aired in Columbus, Dayton, and Cincinnati.

Plan Review Of Nixon Talk On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon's televised news conference tonight will be his first scheduled television appearance since Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's attack on TV news analysis that followed Nixon's speech on Vietnam Nov. 3.

CBS said it plans several minutes of summation and analysis by Eric Sevareid and Roger Mudd after the conference, which begins at 9 p.m.

NBC said John Chancellor will offer a brief summary before the network returns to regular programming.

ABC said it will have a brief summary if the news conference ends before 9:30 p.m., to fill out the half-hour. If it runs more than a half-hour, the network will go directly to regular programming.

After the last presidential news conference Sept. 26, CBS had about four minutes of analysis, which 200 of its 203 stations carried, ABC and NBC had brief summaries.

CBS President Frank Stanton said last week that one affiliate station had notified him it would no longer carry network analysis after presidential speeches.

Agnew had charged that network commentators, following the speech with "instant" analysis, made difficult an objective evaluation of Nixon's remarks.

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

Sunday's rain ended in the western Ohio area during the afternoon and in the east during the night after amounts of about .5 inch to one inch had fallen.

Early this morning skies were cloudy and temperatures were in the middle 30s, which is rather mild for December.

A little drier air is moving across the state so that partial clearing is expected later today and tonight.

Temperatures will fall into the 20s tonight.

The outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday is mostly fair weather with temperatures continuing near or a little below normal for this time of year.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Clearing this evening and tonight. A little cooler. Lows tonight 20-30. Tuesday cloudy and little change in temperature.

SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST, OHIO — Partial clearing later today and tonight. A little cooler. Lows tonight in the middle or upper 20s. Tuesday fair. High in the lower 40s.

OHIO FIVE - DAY FORECAST

Temperatures will average slightly below normal Tuesday through Saturday with highs generally in the 30s to near 40 and lows in the 20s. Rain or snow about the middle of the week and again about Saturday will total .25 to .5 inch melted.

Police Seek 5 Robbers For Slaying

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland police are seeking a gang of five robbers—four of them women—who they say invaded an East Side restaurant early Sunday, shot a white patron to death and wounded a Negro cook.

Homicide detectives said one of the gun molls took an undetermined amount of money from William F. Pavsek, 41, then slugged him with her gun and killed him with a bullet in the back of the head.

The same woman wounded the cook, 48 - year-old Doyle Knox, police said.

Witnesses said the woman took $450 from the cash register, then ordered Knox to "come here" and as he approached shot him in the chest. Knox was reported in fair condition at Huron Road Hospital.

The holdup shootings occurred at the Ebony Boy Bar-B-Que on St. Clair Avenue in the predominantly Negro Glenview area.

Pavsek, a machinist, was waiting for a takeout order at the restaurant, where he was a regular customer, police said.

Three other customers, all Negroes, also were robbed. Darrell Johnson, 19, son of the restaurant owner, tried to sneak out the front door to call police but was caught by the holdup gang and taken with them in their car as they fled. The boy was freed a few blocks away.

Nicholas Drive Students Plan Holiday Play

An evening of entertainment is on hand as students of Nicholas Drive Elementary present their annual Christmas program 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the school.

Members of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will perform the play, "Thirty Minutes with Santa." Included in the cast are: Reynold Williams, Joni Foster, Connie Mercer, Tom Scherer, Randy Wolf, Brad Allison, Perry Hix, David Berrigan, Mona Shires, Carolyn Tammany, Brent Smith, David Marshall, Molly Hamrick.

Carolers are: Ellen Palm, Molly Hamrick, Mark Schiewetz, Greg Lundberg, Pam Sturgell, Jeff Binkley, David DeLong, Paula Tussing, Jimmie Groves, Patsy Binkley, Ben Brian, Brenda Schrader, Tammy Tussing, Penny Johnston, Jeff Strawser, Ty Willson, Wendy Goodman, Mary Kay Marshall, Duane Miller, Billie Rich, Brian Girlock, Duane Wilkins, Kimberly Farmer, Brian Dett.

Students in kindergarten through the sixth grade will participate in singing Christmas carols, with soloists Denise Mercer, Ricky McCain, David DeLong and Mark Schiewetz. On production are Brent McPherson, lights and Robert Hively, curtains.

Everyone is invited to attend the festivities.

Plan Review Of Nixon Talk On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon's televised news conference tonight will be his first scheduled television appearance since Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's attack on TV news analysis that followed Nixon's speech on Vietnam Nov. 3.

CBS said it plans several minutes of summation and analysis by Eric Sevareid and Roger Mudd after the conference, which begins at 9 p.m.

NBC said John Chancellor will offer a brief summary before the network returns to regular programming.

ABC said it will have a brief summary if the news conference ends before 9:30 p.m., to fill out the half-hour. If it runs more than a half-hour, the network will go directly to regular programming.

After the last presidential news conference Sept. 26, CBS had about four minutes of analysis, which 200 of its 203 stations carried. ABC and NBC had brief summaries.

CBS President Frank Stanton said last week that one affiliate station had notified him it would no longer carry network analysis after presidential speeches. Agnew had charged that network commentators, following the speech with "instant" analysis, made difficult an objective evaluation of Nixon's remarks.

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

Sunday's rain ended in the western Ohio area during the afternoon and in the east during the night after amounts of about .5 inch to one inch had fallen. Early this morning skies were cloudy and temperatures were in the middle 30s, which is rather mild for December.

A little drier air is moving across the state so that partial clearing is expected later today and tonight.

Temperatures will fall into the 20s tonight. The outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday is mostly fair weather with temperatures continuing near or a little below normal for this time of year.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Clearing this evening and tonight. A little cooler. Lows tonight 20-30. Tuesday cloudy and little change in temperature.

SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST, OHIO — Partial clearing later today and tonight. A little cooler. Lows tonight in the middle or upper 20s. Tuesday fair. High in the lower 40s.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECAST

Temperatures will average slightly below normal Tuesday through Saturday with highs generally in the 30s to near 40 and lows in the 20s. Rain or snow about the middle of the week and again about Saturday will total .25 to .5 inch melted.

Police Seek 5 Robbers For Slaying

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland police are seeking a gang of five robbers—four of them women—who they say invaded an East Side restaurant early Sunday, shot a white patron to death and wounded a Negro cook.

Homicide detectives said one of the gun molls took an undetermined amount of money from William F. Pavsek, 41, then slugged him with her gun and killed him with a bullet in the back of the head.

The same woman wounded the cook, 48-year-old Doyle Knox, police said.

Witnesses said the woman took $450 from the cash register, then ordered Knox to "come here" and as he approached shot him in the chest.

Knox was reported in fair condition at Huron Road Hospital.

The holdup shootings occurred at the Ebony Boy Bar-B-Que on St. Clair Avenue in the predominantly Negro Glenview area.

Pavsek, a machinist, was waiting for a takeout order at the restaurant, where he was a regular customer, police said.

Three other customers, all Negroes, also were robbed. Darrell Johnson, 14, son of the restaurant owner, tried to sneak out the front door to call police but was caught by the holdup gang and taken with them in their car as they fled. The boy was freed a few blocks away.

U.S. Asks Postponement Of Arms Talks; No Balk

HELSINKI (AP) — The eighth working session of the U.S. — Soviet Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, scheduled for today, was postponed at the request of the U.S. delegation.

The U.S. request seemed sure to give rise to speculation that trouble had developed in the talks, although an American spokesman insisted this was not the case. He said the session was postponed over the weekend by mutual agreement because "we did not have the required information."

The spokesman declined to explain further but said the session probably would be held tomorrow. There is "no issue, no setback," he insisted.

There was no public inkling of the postponement until the U.S. delegation failed to show up at the Soviet embassy this morning.

The U.S. and Soviet delegations have agreed not to give out substantive information about the talks, making it impossible to know whether the public displays of good will are backed by any real progress toward agreement on specific points.

The talks are supposed to be working out arrangements for substantive negotiations on limitation of the two superpowers' nuclear arsenals. Conference sources had predicted that these preliminary talks would end in a week or 10 days with agreement to hold full-scale talks early in the new year.

The last working session was held Friday, but the two delegations saw each other Saturday at a hall given by President Urho Kekkonen for Finnish Independence Day.

The chief U.S. and Soviet delegates, Gerard Smith and Vladimir Semenov, chatted at length and amiably with each other, and other members of the two delegations spent much time together at the ball and seemed to be on the best of terms.

Probe Rate Of Malnutrition In Cincy's Deprived Areas

CINCINNATI (AP) — As much as 25 per cent of the city's population in socio-economically deprived areas could be suffering from some form of malnutrition.

Dr. Richard Bozian, head of a University of Cincinnati medical team, made the estimate as a result of the group's study of nutrition here, although he said that a formal survey has not been taken.

Since it has been reported that about one fifth of Cincinnati's 500,000 population lives in poverty, nearly 25,000 Cincinnatians could be affected by the lack of proper food.

Examples of families suffering from malnutrition have been pointed out in a series in the Cincinnati Enquirer dealing with hunger in the Queen City.

Pauline Robinson, area coordinator of East End Neighborhood Services of the Seven Hills Neighborhood Houses Inc., said she found Thursday that a family of five here had been living on the broth of a hambone for nearly a week.

"They'd been boiling it over and over again," she said. "That hambone really looked sick."

The man, an older fellow, is receiving a veteran's pension of about $46 a month and the wife is almost illiterate.

"If they hadn't had a youngster in school it might have gone on for God knows how long,"

Mrs. Robinson said.

Mrs. Robinson said that when a member of her group goes to a home, the persons often do not

Man Arrested For Abduction Of Woman, Son

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A police chase here early Sunday ended with the arrest of a 26-year-old Youngstown man accused of abducting a young mother and her infant son.

Police said the man, who is held without charge, beat a 24-year-old North Side steelworker, in front of his home, kidnapped his wife and child and held them captive about 90 minutes before he wrecked his car while attempting to escape from police.

The husband, John Allen, is reported in serious condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital with a fractured skull. His wife, Ruth Ann, 17, was treated at the hospital for a smashed hand and cuts and bruises. Their 3-week-old son, John Jr., was not harmed.

The suspect also was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for minor injuries suffered when he wrecked his car and then was taken to city jail.

mention anything about hunger.

"I think there is quite a bit of hunger here and we don't know about it," she continued.

Another family — 10 children including the illegitimate baby of the oldest daughter — 15, spends $15 a week for food.

Malnutrition can come in the form of lack of iron, protein, calcium, Vitamin A or Vitamin C.

But Bozian believes that malnutrition is caused more by ignorance than poverty.

"When income is low it takes magic to get an adequate diet but it can be done," said Bozian, an assistant professor of biological chemistry and associate professor of medicine.

Garden Club Schedules Christmas Tea

Solaqua Garden Club held its annual Christmas Party and gift exchange at noon Friday at the Wardell Party Home.

Mrs. Harry Smith, regional director of district 9, was presented a corsage by club president, Mrs. Charles Huston. The Lord's Prayer was prayed in unison.

Tables were decorated in keeping with the Holiday theme. Individual favors of small sleigh candy containers were furnished by Mrs. James Hott. It was voted to prepare a Christmas basket for a needy family. Mrs. Hott and Mrs. C. W. Hedges were appointed the committee in charge of selection and delivery.

Mrs. Huston announced that members having a decoration or craft for the Christmas tree in the hall of the library in Circleville should have it there by Dec. 12.

Mrs. Clyde Herron read "The Christmas Story" from St. Luke and "A Christmas Prayer."

Mrs. Smith served as judge for the best decorated Christmas packages. Winners were — 1. Mrs. Lee Downs; 2. Mrs. Howard Koch and 3. Mrs. Henry Hansen.

Following the gift exchange members and guests visited the Brooks-Yates School, viewing the holiday display of ceramic items made in the school's workshop. Mrs. Elzie Brooks took the group on a tour of the classrooms.

Members in attendance were Mrs. Bernard Savey, Mrs. Jennie Russell, Mrs. Cecil Ward, Mrs. Earl Wilson, Mrs. Glenn Rinehart, Mrs. Charles Taes, Mrs. Mary Besonsan, Mrs. John Eitel, Mrs. Paul Stout, Mrs. Ben Walker, Miss Mary Shortridge, Mrs. Everett Peters, Mrs. Alfred Cook, Mrs. Glenn Fausnaugh, Mrs. Walter Cummins, Mrs. Hansen, Mrs. Downs, Mrs. Hott, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Herron, Mrs. Hedges, Mrs. Huston and Mrs. Koch.

Presbyterian Synod Raises Member Fee

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The United Presbyterian Synod of Ohio, meeting here Saturday, voted to increase the "per capita" assessment of its congregations from 40 cents to 75.

This means that each of the 690 United Presbyterian congregations in Ohio must pay the Synod 76 cents for each member. The Synod also adopted a budget of $1,038,346 for support of Muskingum College, the College of Wooster, six homes for the aged and other service agencies operated by the church.

Save the juice drained from maraschino cherries. Use it to color and flavor cream cheese for pretty lunch-box or tea-party sandwiches.

Westminster Bible Class Installs New Officers

Westminster Bible Class of the First Presbyterian Church was entertained recently by Mrs. Florence Baker in her home, 295 Lewis Road. The home was decorated throughout for the Christmas season.

Mrs. Guy Campbell, president, led devotions with verses 8 to 15 of the second chapter of the book of Luke and concluded with prayer. Miss Martha Warner recited a Christmas poem, "Little Rocket's Christmas," which she had learned when very young.

Definite plans were adopted for participation in the seasonal welfare program of the church as well as private projects of the class for Christmas giving.

New officers for the coming year were installed by the incumbent president, Mrs. Campbell. She presented red and white carnations to Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, president; Mrs. Charles Smith, vice president; Mrs. Bernadine Hott, treasurer, and Mrs. W. C. Watson, secretary.

Mrs. Lawrence Thornton played a tape recorded by her son, Larry, minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Oakland, Calif. It was a sermon titled, "The Pepsi Generation" with text taken from Hebrews, chapter 11. He asked the question "In this generation, what is a Christian?" First, a Christian has faith, which gives one freedom to take responsibility for his own actions and for the welfare of others, freedom to change and to grow. Second, a Christian is a pilgrim looking for change, for growth, for resurrection, accepting all fellow men as loved of God. Each generation is the first fruits of something greater to follow. The tape concluded with Christmas music during which gifts were exchanged by members.

It was decided that the regular January meeting would be eliminated and that the new year would start with the February meeting.

Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Thornton and Mrs. Campbell served refreshments in keeping with the holiday mood.

Sorority Unit Holds Session

Xi Eta Epsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Jolliffe, 270 Walnut Creek Pike.

Mrs. Jolliffe, president, presided over the business session and presented the program. Her topics were "The Life of Christ in Art" and "Christmas Customs Near and Far."

A dessert course was served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Charles Curlett, to Mrs. Reber Bell, Mrs. Duane Feldman, Mrs. Howard Judd, Mrs. John Kelchner, Mrs. Robert Seranton, Mrs. Howard Snook and Mrs. Robert Wilkinson.

The club's Christmas Party will be held 6:30 p.m. Dec. 16 at Tink's with members exchanging gifts.

Members of the sorority met recently for a brief business meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Bell. Following the meeting, most of the members attended the Fall Banquet at the Wardell Party Home held by members of the Chillicothe chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Stevenson, president; Mrs. Charles Smith, vice president; Mrs. Bernadine Hott, treasurer, and Mrs. N. C. Watson, secretary.

Mrs. Lawrence Thornton played a tape recorded by her son, Larry, minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Oakland, Calif. It was a sermon titled, "The Pepsi Generation" with text taken from Hebrews, chapter 11. He asked the question "In this generation, what is a Christian?" First, a Christian has faith, which gives one freedom to take responsibility for his own actions and for the welfare of others, freedom to change and to grow. Second, a Christian is a pilgrim looking for change, for growth, for resurrection, accepting all fellow men as loved of God. Each generation is the first fruits of something greater to follow. The tape concluded with Christmas music during which gifts were exchanged by members.

It was decided that the regular January meeting would be eliminated and that the new year would start with the February meeting.

Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Thornton and Mrs. Campbell served refreshments in keeping with the holiday mood.

Sorority Unit
Holds Session

Xi Eta Epsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Jolliffe, 270 Walnut Creek Pike.

Mrs. Jolliffe, president, presided over the business session and presented the program. Her topics were "The Life of Christ in Art" and "Christmas Customs Near and Far."

A dessert course was served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Charles Curlett, to Mrs. Reber Bell, Mrs. Duane Feldman, Mrs. Howard Judd, Mrs. John Kelchner, Mrs. Robert Scanton, Mrs. Howard Snook and Mrs. Robert Wilkinson.

The club's Christmas Party will be held 6:30 p.m. Dec. 16 at Tinks with members exchanging gifts.

Members of the sorority met recently for a brief business meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Bell. Following the meeting, most of the members attended the Fall Banquet at the Wardell Party Home held by members of the Chillicothe chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Youth Is Slain
During Holdup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The son of a Columbus market operator was fatally wounded in an apparent holdup attempt Saturday night. William Fitzpatrick Jr., 19, died in Grant Hospital of gunshot wounds in the chest.

Police said the youth left the market with another employee. They were accosted in a parking lot and the gunman opened fire when Fitzpatrick failed to heed a command to stop.

Mrs. Guy Campbell, president, led devotions with verses 8 to 15 of the second chapter of the book of Luke and concluded with prayer. Miss Martha Warner recited a Christmas poem, "Little Rocket's Christmas," which she had learned when very young.

Definite plans were adopted for participation in the seasonal welfare program of the church as well as private projects of the class for Christmas giving. New officers for the coming year were installed by the incumbent president, Mrs. Campbell. She presented red and white carnations to Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, president; Mrs. Charles Smith, vice president; Mrs. Bernadine Hott, treasurer, and Mrs. N. C. Watson, secretary.

Lincoln's Casket

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—Mrs. Pearl Bunnell, 92, who was born in Springfield, Ill., in 1877, said she remembers her father revealing to her that he "had the honor" of sealing Lincoln's casket.

He was part of the Abraham Lincoln guard or a memorial guard.

"He was sworn to secrecy, and he never talked about it," she said.

Santa and the DUMBBELL

By Lucrece Beale

synopsis: Stanley the Ghost and Booby Bobby cut the strings from the Puppet Princess. They escape from the puppeteer. They find a raft and set out for Santa Land.

CHAPTER SIX ADVENTURES ON A RAFT

BOOBY BOBBY and Stanley the Ghost and the Puppet Princess huddled on the rickety raft as it swept faster and faster down the river.

"I expect it's taking us straight to Santa Land," said Booby Bobby happily.

But the Ghost said, "I'd feel better if the ferryman were here. He's the one who knows the way."

"It is the Santa Land ferry just the same," insisted Booby Bobby. "Maybe it will get us there by itself."

"I don't care where it goes," murmured the Princess. "It's so wonderful to be free!" She stretched her arms and wiggled her toes for the sheer pleasure of moving without any strings.

The raft reeled on until it reached the open sea. Land was far from sight. Now a terrible storm engulfed them. Winds heaved the raft up and down the sides of enormous waves and spun it wildly in whirlpools.

Booby Bobby felt seasick. The Ghost turned three shades whiter. Even the Princess was dismayed by so much movement.

A huge wave crashed on top of them and nearly swept them overboard. Another wave hit. The raft twitched and trembled as though it would splinter to bits.

The Ghost came sputtering out of the next wave and said in a very calm voice, "I think we are coming apart."

The raft was indeed sinking. They were already sitting in 10 inches of water.

"Maybe we can tie it together again," said the Princess in a timid voice. She slipped off her petticoat and tore it into strips and the three worked frantically to tie the raft together again. Booby Bobby found a wad of silly putty in his coat pocket and used it to fill some of the cracks between the boards. Soon the raft was again riding on top of the waves.

But now a worse thing happened. The sea calmed; the wind stopped howling; the raft sat dead still traveling nowhere at all.

They sat there all night and all day and another night. The raft never moved. They tried paddling with their hands and kicking with their feet in the water. It did no good. The raft would not move.

"If only we had a sail!" exclaimed the Ghost.

"We could use you," said Booby Bobby.

"Me!"

"My mother thought you were an old sheet. If we spread you out, you might be as good as a sail."

The Ghost, grumbling and feeling very silly, stood in the bow of the raft and the Princess and Booby Bobby spread out his sheets as far as they would go.

The raft quivered slightly and began to move. A strong breeze came out of the west and filled the Ghost's sheets. The raft zoomed over the water. They were on their way again.

"I see land!" cried Booby Bobby.

They looked where he pointed and saw an island not far ahead. "It's Santa Land!" shouted Booby Bobby as they neared the shore.

He jumped up and down and flapped the Ghost's sheets wildly to hurry the raft through the surf. This was a mistake. The wind filled the flapping sheets with such force that it lifted Stanley off the raft and swept him away like a kite torn from a child's hands.

At the same moment the raft turned upside down in the pounding surf. Booby Bobby and the Princess were dumped into the sea and the raft was shattered to pieces.

Army Admits Buying Goods

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army went on buying rocket launchers from a company although it knew the firm had overcharged the Navy by more than $4 million, officers have told Congress.

The reason, the officers said, was that the Army had no other place to buy the launchers.

Maj. Gen. Roland B. Anderson told the House subcommittee on military operations Friday the Army paid $1.86 million for 4,603 19-tube and 7-tube rocket launchers from Alcoa, Inc., while the firm was on the Navy suspension list.

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS network executives hope that the midseason replacement of "The Leslie Uggams Show" with Glen Campbell's variety hour will help the ratings of the program that follows, "Mission: Impossible."

After several fairly successful seasons, the adventure series seems to be dropping in the ratings.

One view is that the weak Uggams "lead-in" affected the program's popularity.

Another is that the angry departure of both Martin Landau and Barbara Bain, in a salary dispute, has something to do with the smaller audiences.

A third opinion, offered here, is that the format of "Mission: Impossible" is so rigid and the story lines so much the same that viewers, after plenty of exposure to them, are losing interest.

Sunday night's hour was the usual complicated skein of disguises and fakery in which the heroic team saved the throne of a good king from the plotting of his evil brother. It featured a phony kidney transplant operation, but that was only a slight variation of a familiar theme.

The greatest disaster in show business is a comedy-fantasy that doesn't come off. Saturday night's "The Littlest Angel" had the hard luck to be a musical-fantasy-comedy and was so cute and coy about heaven and Christmas it must have turned away a lot of viewers.

This 90-minute "Hall of Fame" adaptation of a well-known story received a lavish production—heaven, where most of the scenes were played, was beautiful, all soft clouds with backgrounds of stars and angels with fine white robes, big wings and golden halos. Johnny Whitaker of "Family Affair" seemed uncomfortable playing an 8-year-old shepherd boy who goes to heaven and doesn't like it.

The musical score was bouncy, undistinguished and, like the dialogue, tended toward the saccharine. Some very talented, attractive performers were mixed up in this—Fred Gwynne, E.G. Marshall, Tony Randall and Connie Stevens. They were wasted as was Johnny.

President Nixon's news conference tonight at 9 EST will upset the network schedules in various ways. CBS will skip "Mayberry RFD" and, if necessary, "The Doris Day Show."

ABC will follow the conference with "The Survivors" no matter what the time. After that broadcast, "Love, American Style," may run through the late news period.

NBC will just get a late start on its "World Premiere" movie, Jack Webb's "The D.A.: Murder One."

Vikings Hand L.A. Rams 1st Defeat, 20-13

By ED SCHUYLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

An early happening in Los Angeles helped shatter the Rams' dreams of an unbeaten season and left them thinking about a Dec. 27 date in the Minnesota northland when a lot more than 100 yards in a game will be at stake.

"That kickoff return was something that just happened," Minnesota Coach Bud Grant said Sunday after the Vikings handed the Rams their first defeat of the season after 11 straight victories.

What happened on the return of the kickoff—the opening one of the game—was a 78-yard run by Charlie West to the Los Angeles 22 to set up Dave Osborn's four-yard touchdown run that gave the Vikings a lead they never lost.

It was the 11th straight victory after a season-opening loss for the Central Division champion Vikings, who will play the Coastal Division champion Rams for the Western Conference title Dec. 27 in Minnesota.

Dallas, 9-2-1, struggled through the rain and snow in Pittsburgh to edge the Steelers, 1-10, and clinch the Capitol Division and the right to meet Century Division winner Cleveland for the Eastern Conference championship.

In other NFL action Sunday, Washington, 6-4-2, outlasted Philadelphia, 4-7-1, 34-29; the New York Giants, 4-8, smashed St. Louis, 4-8-1, 49-6; Cleveland, 9-2-1, topped Green Bay, 6-6, 20-7; Atlanta, 4-8, drubbed New Orleans, 4-8, 45-18, and Detroit, 7-4-1, tied Baltimore, 7-4-1, 17-17. San Francisco, 3-7-2, walloped Philadelphia, 1-11, 42-21 Saturday.

After Osborn scored, Minnesota took a 14-0 lead on Bill Brown's one-yard touchdown run. Bruce Gossett then kicked a 37-yard field goal and the Vikings' Fred Cox booted a 39-yarder as Minnesota built up a 17-7 halftime lead.

Cox and Osborn exchanged second half field goals and then Roman Gabriel brought the Rams their touchdown on a four-yard pass to Larry Smith with about three minutes left. The Rams got the ball again but couldn't move out of their own territory.

Dallas built a 10-0 halftime lead on Mike Clark's 32-yard field goal and quarterback Craig Morton's 2-yard touchdown run, then held off Pittsburgh the fourth quarter. The Steelers' touchdown came on a 29-yard pass from Dick Shiner to Jon Henderson.

Vince Lombardi, in his first season as Washington coach, was assured of at least a .500 season when the Redskins got past Philadelphia. Trailing 16-13 at halftime, Washington came back as rookie defensive end John Hoffman recovered a Norm Snead fumble for a touchdown. Sonny Jurgensen fired his second scoring strike and Larry Brown scored from one yard out. Snead passed for two Philadelphia touchdowns.

Veterans Joe Morrison and Fran Tarkenton sparked New York past St. Louis, snapping the Giants' losing streak at seven games. Morrison caught six passes for 96 yards and two touchdowns and ran 36 yards for another score. Tarkenton connected on 19 of 31 passes for 252 yards and four touchdowns.

Leroy Kelly turned in the best individual rushing performance of the season, rambling for 151 yards in Cleveland's victory over Green Bay. It was the 20th time in his career he has gained more than 100 yards in a game. Bill Nelsen passed for one Cleveland touchdown and Ernie Kellerman ran 40 yards with an interception for another. Don Horn threw for Green Bay's score.

Running back Harmon Wages and quarterback Bob Berry were the big guns in Atlanta's trouncing of New Orleans. Wages scored on an 88-yard pass from Berry, ran 66 yards for a touchdown and passed for another. Berry also passed for two other touchdowns. Bill Kellmer passed for a touchdown and Ernie Wheelwright ran for one for the Saints who had a three-game winning streak stopped.

Browns Defeat Packers 20-7; Kelly Turned Loose

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "They just don't have any weaknesses," Green Bay Coach Phil Bengtson said Sunday after the Cleveland Browns beat the Packers, 20-7, behind a strong defense and Leroy Kelly's running.

"Kelly is a great runner," Bengtson said after Kelly turned in the National Football League's best individual performance of the season with 151 yards in 22 carries.

"No, make that a great football player," Bengtson continued. "He runs, catches passes, and blocks. We've faced all the good ones, Savers and the rest, and Kelly ranks with the best."

Kelly, who gained 118 of his yards in 14 first-half carries to help the Century Division champions (9-2-1) to a 13-0 halftime lead, said, "Our philosophy is get us past the line of scrimmage and we can do the rest."

Kelly ran four times for 48 yards to set up a 20-yard field goal by Don Cockroft early in the second period. He then ran three times for 59 yards to set up a 30-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Bill Nelsen to Paul Warfield.

"Paul gave me an outside move, then cut for the post, and when he cut in, I lost my footing and never got untracked," said defender Bob Jeter.

Nelsen then passed the Browns downfield and Cockroft made a 45-yard field goal, his longest of the season, in the closing seconds of the half.

Cockroft had made only eight of 19 previous attempts, but said, "I wasn't nervous. I've been kicking the ball all year. I've been missing by just a little bit."

Ernie Kellermann's 40-yard pass interception return for a touchdown, the fourth touchdown for a Browns' defender this season, gave Cleveland a 20-0 lead in the third quarter.

The Packers (6-6) got on the scoreboard with 1:46 left to play on Don Horn's 29-yard touchdown pass to Dave Hampton.

Arnie Palmer Wins Thomas Golf Classic

THE "ARMY" HAS A HERO AGAIN — Arnold Palmer, winning his second golf tourney since September of 1968, gives his "Army" something to cheer about as he wins the Danny Thomas Classic Sunday.

MIAMI (AP) — The charge was there, the shouting, stampeding gallery was there and it was the Palmer of old.

"Charge, Arnie, Charge," they shouted, and Arnold Palmer grinned that infectious grin, hitched up his britches with a characteristic gesture, and responded.

He responded like the Palmer of years gone by, charging up from six strokes off the pace with a seven-under-par 65 that brought him the title in the $125,000 Danny Thomas-Diplomat Golf Classic and left Gay Brewer—the front-runner for three days—panting in the dust of Arnie's whooping army.

Hawks Beat Los Angeles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Who needs Zemo Beaty? Certainly not the Atlanta Hawks, the way Jim Davis is coming through.

A lot of people thought the Hawks were in trouble when Beaty, as good an outside shooting center as the National Basketball Association had to offer, jumped to the ABA.

But the Hawks are 3½ games ahead of San Francisco in the NBA's Western Division following Sunday night's 104-103 triumph over Los Angeles and Davis is one of the big reasons.

Raiders Stop Cincinnati

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

The Oakland Raiders and Kansas City Chiefs promise to show up for their Blue Cross Bowl showdown next Saturday... and they'll be wearing football uniforms, not hospital pajamas.

Daryle Lamonia and Jan Stenerud, two of the healthiest outpatients around, sparked their respective teams to victory Sunday and set up the forthcoming battle for the American Football League's Western Division title.

Lamonia got out of a hospital bed and threw three touchdown passes as the Raiders avenged their only defeat of the season — they have an 11-1 record — by defeating the Cincinnati Bengals 37-17.

The Chiefs, 11-2, kept pace, edging the Buffalo Bills 22-19 on the flu-ridden Stenerud's fifth field goal of the game, a 25-yarder with two minutes left.

Elsewhere, San Diego beat Boston 28-18 and Miami downed Denver 27-24. The New York Jets clinched the Eastern Division crown Saturday with a 34-26 triumph over Houston.

Earlier this season, Lamonia was hospitalized with the flu the night before a game against San Diego but got up long enough to pass well as the Raiders won.

This time, he had a pain under his shoulder blade and received heat pad treatment during the game after spending the night in a hospital.

"We were just having a slight drill," said Lamonia, after raising his season total to 33 touchdowns passes, three short of the pro record. "I went back to throw and got this bad pain. I couldn't believe it."

"This is the first week I've really felt sound all season and then this had to happen. I must not be living right or something."

Buffalo, trailing by 10 points much of the game, caught up at 19-all with eight minutes left when O.J. Simpson reeled off his longest run as a pro, circling left end for 32 yards and a touchdown.

Paint Valley Tops Westfall In Conference Game, 75-69

Trailing all of the game, Westfall lost to Paint Valley, 75-69, in Scioto Valley Conference action Saturday.

The Mustangs' scoring duo of Greg Bigam and Bill Blair accounted for 56 points, but could not match the balanced effort of the winners.

Bigam canned 10 of 19 attempts from the field and made seven of nine chances from the charity stripe for 27 markers. Blair took game laurels with nine of 17 from the field and 11 of 13 at the foul line for 29.

Tom Hawker tallied nine points and Steve Sines and Randy Alkire two each.

Logan Elm Drops SVC Tilt At Adena

Logan Elm dropped its first Scioto Valley encounter, losing at Adena to the Warriors, 72-60, Saturday.

The loss gives the Braves a 1-2 record for the season. Next Saturday they host Southeastern in a non-conference game.

The Braves trailed throughout the tilt. The score was 10-8 at the end of the first eight minutes of play, 31-20 at halftime and 54-37 as the fourth quarter got under way.

Danny Fausnaugh was the leading scorer in the game, making 13 buckets from the field and adding two at the charity stripe for 28 markers. Dan Ankrom scored ten and was the only other Brave to hit double figures.

FOR the winners, Keith Shoemaker scored 25. Armstrong and Knisley added twin figure support with 18 and 16 points respectively.

Westfall has a 2-3 record for the season. The little Mustangs dropped the preliminary tilt, 58-37.

Friday Westfall plays at East Clinton. The game will be WESTFALL.

Circleville '5' Edged By Tall Grandview

By MIKE VAUGHAN
Herald Sports Writer

The Circleville Tigers were edged by the Grandview Bobcats in a close tilt on the Tiger floor Saturday night, 80-74.

Lawhorn's legion kept pace with the favored visitors until the last part of the fourth period when three CHS starters fouled out. The Red and Black led the tilt with 4:37 to play, 65-64.

Grandview's Bobcats led by as many as 12 markers in the first half but a slowly awakened Tiger took control of the last half with ball hawking and defense that kept the crowd in their seats until the last buzzer.

Grandview was the first team to net two points in the first period and Ty Ankrom dumped in Circleville's first bucket with 6:03 showing on the clock.

CIRCLEVILLE tied up the ball game less than a minute later and took the lead by four with 2:32 left in the initial canto.

But then disaster struck the Tiger den as Bryce Brown, Circleville's senior center, drew his third personal foul in the last minute of the period and Grandview's captain, Steve Mowery, tied the tilt up at 12-12. The buzzer sounded as Mowery netted a half court hope-shot and the hosts trailed by five, 17-12.

In the second period, Grandview hit over 75 per cent of their shots from the field and pulled down most of the rebounds on the CHS boards. They led by as many as 12 in the period and the halftime score gave them an eight point edge, 38-30.

Bobcats Nip Purdue Boilermakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mid-American Conference 2, Big Ten 0.

That was the Ohio basketball story Saturday as powerful Ohio University shocked third-ranked Purdue 80-79 and an inspired Toledo team upended Michigan State 82-80.

"I've never had kids fight so hard for the ball when they had to have it," OU Coach Jim Snyder said after his Bobcats upset the defending Big Ten champs.

Snyder called the victory a "great team effort" and singled out his front line, Greg McDivitt, Dave Groff and Craig Love, for the way they "hit the boards at the end."

"I'm glad Rick Mount was not the first half," Snyder added. Mount, Purdue's heralded guard, hit only four of 17 shots in the first half, but sank seven of his last 11 to finish with 29 points.

McDivitt led Bobcat scorers with 20 points and was tops in rebounds for both teams.

Toledo's Rockets saw a chance for victory when Michigan State sophomore sensation Ralph Simpson fouled out midway through the second half.

Toledo grabbed the lead, scoring 18 points while allowing the Spartans only four. The Spartans closed to within four points with 1½ minutes left, but the Rockets held on to hand Michigan State its first loss of the season.

In other major games Saturday, Ohio State crushed Butler 112-89, Dayton trimmed Bowling Green 72-70, Miami beat Ball State 81-65, Cincinnati whipped Indiana State 104-82, and Akron downed Hofstra 70-66.

Led by Jody Finney with 32 points, Ohio State had little trouble getting by Butler. The Bucks led by at least 20 points most of the game. Dave Sorenson, OSU's leading scorer last season, had 22 points.

Dayton had to repeatedly beat back the determined Falcons, but finally sewed up the victory with two free throws by George Janky with 29 seconds left to play. Janky netted a game-high 26 points, while Rich Walker led Bowling Green with 20.

Miami, the Mid-American Conference titlist last season, shot a hot 56 per cent to thump Ball State in a non-conference match. Walt Williams was high man with 22 points in a game that saw Redskins substitutes playing most of the second half.

Vikings Hand L.A. Rams 1st Defeat, 20-13

By ED SCHUYLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

An early happening in Los Angeles helped shatter the Rams' dreams of an unbeaten season and left them thinking about a Dec. 27 date in the Minnesota northland when a lot more than pride will be at stake.

"That kickoff return was something that just happened," Minnesota Coach Bud Grant said Sunday after the Vikings handed the Rams their first defeat of the season after 11 straight victories.

What happened on the return of the kickoff—the opening one of the game—was a 78-yard run by Charlie West to the Los Angeles 22 to set up Dave Osborn's four-yard touchdown run that gave the Vikings a lead they never lost.

It was the 11th straight victory after a season-opening loss

for the Central Division champion Vikings, who will play the Coastal Division champion Rams for the Western Conference title Dec. 27 in Minnesota.

Dallas, 9-2-1, struggled through the rain and snow in Pittsburgh to edge the Steelers, 1-10, and clinch the Capitol Division and the right to meet Century Division winner Cleveland for the Eastern Conference championship.

In other NFL action Sunday, Washington, 6-4-2, outlasted Philadelphia, 4-7-1, 34-29; the New York Giants, 4-8, smashed St. Louis, 4-8-1, 49-6; Cleveland, 9-2-1, topped Green Bay, 6-6, 20-7; Atlanta, 4-8, drubbed New Orleans, 4-8, 45-18, and Detroit, 7-4-1, tied Baltimore, 7-4-1, 17-17. San Francisco, 3-7-2, wallowed Chicago, 1-11, 42-21 Saturday.

After Osborn scored, Minnesota took a 14-0 lead on Bill Brown's one-yard touchdown run. Bruce Gossett then kicked a 37-yard field goal and the Vikings' Fred Cox booted a 39-yarder as Minnesota built up a 17-7 halftime lead.

Cox and Osborn exchanged second half field goals and then Roman Gabriel brought the Rams their touchdown on a four-yard pass to Larry Smith with about three minutes left. The Rams got the ball again but couldn't move out of their own territory.

Dallas built a 10-0 halftime lead on Mike Clark's 32-yard field goal and quarterback Craig Morton's 2-yard touchdown run, then held off Pittsburgh the fourth quarter. The Steelers' touchdown came on a 29-yard pass from Dick Shiner to Jon Henderson.

Vince Lombardi, in his first season as Washington coach, was assured of at least a .500 season when the Redskins got past Philadelphia. Trailing 16-13 at halftime, Washington came back as rookie defensive end John Hoffman recovered a Norm Snead fumble for a touchdown. Sonny Jurgensen fired his second scoring strike and Larry Brown scored from one yard out. Snead passed for two Philadelphia touchdowns.

Veterans Joe Morrison and Fran Tarkenton sparked New York past St. Louis, snapping the Giants' losing streak at seven games. Morrison caught six passes for 96 yards and two touchdowns and ran 36 yards for another score. Tarkenton connected on 19 of 31 passes for 252 yards and four touchdowns.

Leroy Kelly turned in the best individual rushing performance of the season, rambling for 151 yards in Cleveland's victory over Green Bay. It was the 20th time in his career he has gained more than 100 yards in a game. Bill Nelsen passed for one Cleveland touchdown and Ernie Kellerman ran 40 yards with an interception for another. Don Horn threw for Green Bay's score.

Running back Harmon Wages and quarterback Bob Berry were the big guns in Atlanta's trouncing of New Orleans. Wages scored on an 88-yard pass from Berry, ran 66 yards for a touchdown and passed for another. Berry also passed for two other touchdowns. Bill Kellmer passed for a touchdown and Ernie Wheelwright ran for one for the Saints who had a three-game winning streak stopped.

Browns Defeat Packers 20-7; Kelly Turned Loose

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "They just don't have any weaknesses," Green Bay Coach Phil Bengtson said Sunday after the Cleveland Browns beat the Packers, 20-7, behind a strong defense and Leroy Kelly's running.

"Kelly is a great runner," Bengtson said after Kelly turned in the National Football League's best individual performance of the season with 151 yards in 22 carries.

"No, make that a great football player," Bengtson continued. "He runs, catches passes, and blocks. We've faced all the good ones, Sayers and the rest, and Kelly ranks with the best."

Kelly, who gained 118 of his yards in 14 first-half carries to help the Century Division champions (9-2-1) to a 13-0 halftime lead, said, "Our philosophy is get us past the line of scrimmage and we can do the rest."

Kelly ran four times for 48 yards to set up a 20-yard field goal by Don Cockroft early in the second period. He then ran three times for 59 yards to set up a 30-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Bill Nelsen to Paul Warfield.

"Paul gave me an outside move, then cut for the post, and when he cut in, I lost my footing and never got untracked," said defender Bob Jeter.

Nelsen then passed the Browns downfield and Cockroft made a 45-yard field goal, his longest of the season, in the closing seconds of the half.

Cockroft had made only eight of 19 previous attempts, but said, "I wasn't nervous. I've been kicking the ball all year. I've been missing by just a little bit."

Ernie Kellermann's 40-yard pass interception return for a touchdown, the fourth touchdown for a Browns' defender this season, gave Cleveland a 20-0 lead in the third quarter.

The Packers (6-6) got on the scoreboard with 1:46 left to play on Don Horn's 29-yard touchdown pass to Dave Hampton.

"They're getting old and going downhill," Browns' center Fred Hoaglin said of the Packers. "They've slowed down a bit. We were able to get to them and trap some holes in their line. No, they aren't as strong as they used to be, either. There's no pass rush from their tackles and they aren't getting

"This is the first week I've really felt sound all season and then this had to happen. I must not be living right or something."

Lamonia was passing right, though, completing 11 of 22 for 199 and hitting Warren Wells for touchdowns of 51 and 16 yards and Fred Biletnikoff for 16.

Teammate George Blanda, who shares the mark of 36 scoring passes with Y.A. Tittle, kicked three field goals and four extra points, giving him an AFL record 153 consecutive conversions. His passing late in the game also enabled him to pass the 20,000 career mark, another AFL record.

Stenerud battled the stomach flu for two days before putting on a record-setting show of his own. His five field goals gave him 16 in a row over a six-game stretch, erasing the pro standard of 12 by Cleveland's Lou Groza in 1953.

Buffalo, trailing by 10 points much of the game, caught up at 19-all with eight minutes left when O.J. Simpson reeled off his longest run as a pro, circling left end for 32 yards and a touchdown.

The winner of next Saturday's showdown goes into the playoffs against Houston, which clinched second place in the East when Boston and Buffalo both lost. The loser tackles the defending Super Bowl champion New York Jets.

Mid-American Conference 2, Big Ten 0.

That was the Ohio basketball story Saturday as powerful Ohio University shocked third-ranked Purdue 80-79 and an inspired Toledo team upended Michigan State 82-80.

"I've never had kids fight so hard for the ball when they had to have it," OU Coach Jim Snyder said after his Bobcats upset the defending Big Ten champs.

Snyder called the victory a "great team effort" and singled out his front line. Greg McDivitt, Dave Groff and Craig Love, for the way they "hit the boards at the end."

"I'm glad Rick Mount was not hot the first half," Snyder added. Mount, Purdue's heralded guard, hit only four of 17 shots in the first half, but sank seven of his last 11 to finish with 29 points.

McDivitt led Bobcat scorers with 20 points and was tops in rebounds for both teams.

Toledo's Rockets saw a chance for victory when Michigan State sophomore sensation Ralph Simpson fouled out midway through the second half.

Toledo grabbed the lead, scoring 18 points while allowing the Spartans only four. The Spartans closed to within four points with 1½ minutes left, but the Rockets held on to hand Michigan State its first loss of the season.

In other major games Saturday, Ohio State crushed Butler 112-89, Dayton trimmed Bowling Green 72-70, Miami beat Ball State 81-65, Cincinnati whipped Indiana State 104-82, and Akron downed Hofstra 70-66.

Led by Jody Finney with 32 points, Ohio State had little trouble getting by Butler. The Bucks led by at least 20 points most of the game. Dave Sorenson, OSU's leading scorer last season, had 22 points.

Dayton had to repeatedly beat back the determined Falcons, but finally sewed up the victory with two free throws by George Janky with 29 seconds left to play. Janky netted a game-high 26 points, while Rich Walker led Bowling Green with 20.

Miami, the Mid-American Conference titlist last season, shot a hot 56 per cent to thump Ball State in a non-conference match. Walt Williams was high man with 22 points in a game that saw Redskins substitutes playing most of the second half.

Jim Ard led Cincinnati's "quick break" as the Bearcats put on a sustained second-half offense to down Indiana State. UC's Don Ogeltree had a game-high 26 points.

Walters, Walters immediately drew a foul and dumped in one of his two foul shots that put his Tigers only one point behind the panicking Bobcats, 64-63.

GRANDVIEW'S height and depth began to take its toll on the diminutive hosts. With 3:40 showing on the clock, Circleville's Ty Ankrom fouled out and the visitors took over. The tilt ended with the locals on the low end of an 80-74 tally.
Circleville won the game 80-74. Grandview took 61 shots. Circleville connected on 16 of 21 free throw attempts and Grandview hit 22 of 28. Lawhorn's legion is now 1-4 for the season and hosts Miami Trace Friday.

Arnie Palmer

know how successfully. There were some doubts in my own mind.
If anyone had any lingering doubts, any thoughts that last week's victory was a fluke, the old master dispelled them with a game from out of his past, a game in the tradition of the dramatic style that was his trademark in the decade he dominated the game.
The gallery was relatively small, about 10,000, but they all were with Palmer.
"Go, Baby, Go," they pleaded. He started to move on the fifth hole, canning a 10-foot birdie putt while Brewer, with a six-shot lead going into the day's play and playing one two-some back, took the first of three consecutive bogeys.
"You have a feeling, a sixth sense sort of thing when it's going to happen," Palmer said. "I thought at six, when I birdied and Gay bogeyed, that I might have it going."
Brewer, who finished with a 73 for 272, and Palmer parred the next three holes but Gay went one more ahead with a birdie on 13. He might as well have waved a red flag at a bull.
Palmer put a four iron eight feet from the hole on 14 and made the putt. He was one stroke back. A nine iron to four feet on the 15 and it was even.
Gay bogeyed the 16th from the woods and Arnold was alone in front.
He nailed it down with birds on the last two holes, two-putting the par five 17th and running in a 12-footer on the last hole.
"Nothing went right," Brewer said.
Lee Trevino closed with a 66 to take third at 274 with Hal Underwood and Larry Hinson sharing fourth at 275, each with a final 69. Masters champion George Archer had a course record 64 and was alone at 276.
Palmer's victory pushed his earnings past $105,000 for the year and put him in the top 10.

Rangers Defeat Montreal Canadiens

By HAL ROCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

The empty net—usually hockey defenseman's nightmare—proved a bonn for New York's Jim Neilson and didn't hurt Boston's Dallas Smith.

Neilson scored his first National Hockey League goal of the year Sunday night, putting the puck into the unprotected cage after a spectacular fake by Rod Gilbert had lured Montreal's Rogatien Vachon away from the net. That broke a three-period tie and led the New York Rangers to a 6-3 romp over the Canadiens.

Pete Rose Mark Higher Than 1968

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's Pete Rose, the official National League batting champion in 1969, won the crown with a 13-point higher average than in 1968 when he first accomplished the feat.
Rose's mark this year, .348, was characteristic of averages throughout league, generally above those of 1968 known as "The Year of the Pitcher."
Eleven of the league's top 15 batters this year cracked the .300 figure while only five did so in 1968.

Circleville . . .

Walters, Walters immediately drew a foul and dumped in one of his two foul shots that put his Tigers only one point behind the panicking Bobcats, 64-63.

GRANDVIEW'S height and depth began to take its toll on the diminutive hosts. With 3:40 showing on the clock, Circleville's Ty Ankrum fouled out and the visitors took over. The tilt ended with the locals on the low end of an 80-74 tally.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our precious
son and brother, Randy Dean
McDaniel, who left here 3 years
ago today when struck by an automobile.
No one will always walk in sunshine,
Gods love around you glow;
For the happiness you gave us,
Because part of us went with you.
He broke our hearts to lose you,
But you did not go alone.
The day God called you home,
Sadly missed and loved by
Mommy, Daddy, brother and sisters

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our precious
son and brother, Randy Dean
McDaniel, who left here 3 years
ago today when struck by an automobile.
May you always walk in sunshine,
Gods love around you glow;
For the happiness you gave us,
No one will ever know.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you did not go alone;
Because part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.
Sadly missed and loved by
Mommy, Daddy, brother and sisters

Women's Rights Group Seeks Court Job, Astronaut Post

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — President Nixon should send a woman to the moon and appoint one to the U.S. Supreme Court, a women's rights group says.

"The group, the National Organization for Women (NOW), also objects to feminine names for hurricanes."

"Equality for women would bring male liberation, too, since men also are victimized by laws and practices which limit the roles of individuals in modern society," said author Betty Friedan, president of NOW.

NOW's board of directors concluded a three-day meeting Sunday by announcing it plans to file formal complaints charging discrimination against women by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in its training of astronauts and also its selection of top-level administrators.

Mrs. Friedan, who wrote "The Feminine Mystique," said about 10 per cent of NOW's members — she wouldn't give the total — are men and added that the organization is the nation's largest working "for full equality for women in truly equal partnership with men."

The NOW board voted to urge Nixon to name "one or more of America's many eminently qualified women to fill present and future vacancies on the Supreme Court." Specifically mentioned by Mrs. Friedan were federal judges Sarah Hughes of Dallas, Tex., Constance Baker

Tax Reform . .

(Continued from Page 1) But Griffin added "I think it will backfire. I think the people will see through it—if that is the strategy."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield denied there is a plot to bring on a veto.

Wisconsin Rep. John W. Byrnes, the GOP's House fiscal expert, also attacked the Senate's work so far on the bill.

He said unless the conference committee which will consider the Senate and House versions end up with a fiscally responsible measure, President Nixon will have "no alternative but to veto the bill."

However, several senators on both sides of the aisle told a reporter privately the sponsors of the costly amendments expected them to be killed in the conference committee.

These senators said the authors of the riders simply were trying to bank some political credit from a favorable Senate vote.

The House tax reform bill, which includes repeal of the 7 per cent investment credit and reduction of the oil depletion allowance from its present 27½ per cent to 20 per cent would result in an estimated net gain of $2.2 billion in revenue for calendar year 1970.

However, it would result in a net loss of $1.4 billion in revenue in 1971 and vary up to 1979 when the estimated net loss in revenue would total about $2.4 billion.

The Senate, however, has also voted to increase the personal tax exemptions from $600 to $800, reset the oil depletion allowance at 23 per cent and made various other changes which would give further tax relief and result in added losses in revenue.

Arlene Dahl Wed For 5th Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Arlene Dahl has married for the fifth time. The bridegroom Sunday was Rounseville W. Schaum, chairman of Western Video Industries, Inc.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale at Marble Collegiate Church.

It was the second marriage for Schaum, 37.

Miss Dahl, 49, previously was married to Lex Barker, Fernando Lamas, Christian R. Holmes III and Alexis Lichine.

Motley of New York, and Shirley Hustedler of Pasadena, Calif., and U.S. Rep. Martha Griffiths, D-Mich.

As for storms, the board urged the Hurricane Center at Miami to "choose names other than women's names in designating unwelcome, destructive hurricanes."

Mrs. Friedan said that future storms "might be named after animals, flowers or other categories."

The board also had a word or two for Mrs. Nixon, whose "widely publicized statement that there is little discrimination against women in America indicated a need for intensive briefing," Mrs. Friedan said.

The board said it would like to hold a private seminar for the President's wife at the White House, or any location of Mrs. Nixon's choosing, "in which experts will explain the facts and implications of discrimination against women in American society."

Foes Of ABM

(Continued from Page 1) certain House defeat, the vote is expected to be close in the Senate where Safeguard authorization was approved by only one vote.

The House effort is being led by 10 members of the Appropriations Committee who argued in dissenting views to the bill last week that hundreds of millions of dollars will be wasted by deploying the system before research has been completed.

Development of MIRV—multiple independently targetable vehicles—has been as big a controversy in Congress as Safeguard but critics have made no effort to cut funds for it.

The reason, said Rep. Jeffrey Cohelan, D-Calif., a major MIRV critic, is that while opponents don't want the weapon completely developed so long as a U.S.-Soviet agreement outlawing it is possible, they also don't believe the United States should unilaterally stop work.

Blast Burns 5 Persons At Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—An explosion at a service station on Canton's Northeast Side late Sunday burned five persons two of them seriously.

Chief Clarence Snyder of the Pleasant View volunteer fire department said 22-year-old Thomas Jester, an employee of the station at Ohio 62 and Maple Avenue NE, was washing the floor with gasoline which was ignited by the pilot light of a water heater in the back room.

Jester was admitted to Timken Mercy Hospital in critical condition with burns over 80 per cent of his body.

Barbara Hodvys, 25, suffered burns over 50 per cent of her body and was reported in guarded condition.

Admitted to the hospital in fair condition were Ida Davis, 42; Mary Poorman, 33, and Gregory Moore, 11. All the victims are from Canton.

Damage to the station and contents was estimated at $1,000 to $1,500 by Chief Snyder.

Arson Possible In Carlisle Blaze

CARLISLE, Ohio (AP)—Firemen were investigating the possibility of arson today in the third blaze within the last four months at the Miami Valley Chautauqua Park.

Fire destroyed the only park structure Sunday that had not been damaged during the first two blazes. The loss was estimated at $12,000 to the historic amphitheatre.

Heavy Snow Covers Up Twin Cities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first real blast of winter left a blanket of snow or ice and hazardous road conditions across much of the northern United States.

In Minnesota, the Twin Cities area of Minneapolis-St. Paul reported about 10½ inches of heavy, wet snow had fallen by midnight Sunday. Light snow was expected to continue through Tuesday.

Work crews in six counties of western North Carolina worked into the early morning hours to restore electricity and telephone service to areas hit by a week-end ice storm.

Most of the early morning ice had melted late Sunday, but falling limbs and trees continued to snap lines and make more work for the repair crews.

Heavy snow warnings continued in effect for portions of northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan and travelers warnings were in effect for areas from the Great Lakes to New England.

The main snow producer was an intense low pressure system which left a trail of white stuff from Missouri to Minnesota. A second storm, centered off the Middle Atlantic coast, was expected to move into New England today.

Some rain and snow was noted in the Northwest, while snow was also forecast for the New Mexico mountains. However, the Southern and Western states were dominated by a high pressure system of fair and dry weather.

Temperatures across the nation were generally cold during the pre-dawn hours, ranging from 2 below at Butte, Mont., to 75 at Miami, Fla.

Bandit Uses Telephone, Nets $700

Randy Miller, 21, told police he answered the telephone in his service station in the morning darkness and heard a man say, "Look across the street and you'll see a man standing there with a rifle."

Miller looked. A man with a rifle waved.

Miller said the caller told him, "Put the money in a sack and put it on the railroad tracks in back of your place, or you'll see more of the man with the rifle."

The caller and the man with the rifle waited while Miller served a customer. Miller said he then filled the sack and put it on the tracks.

When Miller returned, the man with the rifle was gone. But Miller said the caller chatted a while longer, then hung up.

Police found the empty sack on the tracks. Miller said about $700 to $800 was gone.

Bernadette Devlin Wins Trial Stay

LONDON (AP) — A magistrate granted lawyers for Bernadette Devlin a week's delay today to complete their defense against 12 charges accusing her of violence and incitement to riot during Londonderry's August uprising.

At a two-minute hearing, Magistrate John Shearer accepted the defense plea for adjournment of the case until next Monday. The 22-year-old Irish Catholic member of the British House of Commons was not in court and entered no plea.

The cacao bean, used to make cocoa and chocolate products, was first discovered by the Spaniard Cortez when he entered Mexico in the early 16th century.

Page Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller, Route 1, and a 1965 graduate of Logan Elm High School, is currently performing as one of the leads in the musical comedy, "Once Upon A Mattress" with the St.

Louis Repertory Theater in St. Louis, Mo.

Page, now making her home in New York City, is under contract with the William Morris Theatrical Agency, the largest in the country.

Her personal agent is Judy Abbott, daughter of the famed producer-director George Abbott who directed "Once Upon A Mattress" on Broadway starring Carol Burnett.

A 1967 graduate of the American Musical and Dramatic Academy in New York City which is directed by Philip Burton, foster-father of actor Richard Burton, Page has performed in "Miss Me Kate" at the Rochester Music Theater, Rochester, N. Y.; "The Sound of Music" and "The Great Waltz."

At the Nave Theater at Columbia University, she sang in "Paint Your Wagon"; appeared at Guy Lombardo's

Jones Beach Theater on Long Island in "South Pacific"; Waldorf Astoria, Americana and New York Hilton Hotels; New Jersey Repertory Theater and Louisville, Ky. in a showcase, "Broadway Tonight."

At the conclusion of her current performance in St. Louis on Jan. 3, Page will return to New York City where she will perform in a one-woman showcase at Dangerfields, a dinner theater in mid Manhattan.

At Logan Elm High School she distinguished herself as an honor student, varsity cheerleader, homecoming queen and activities with the chorus, band, dramatics, 4-H and Farm Bureau Youth Council.

Ohio Traffic Toll Spurts; 22 Die In 54-Hour Period

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Authorities were pondering today over some sad traffic statistics for Ohio the past week-end.

After holding down the death toll over the long 102-hour Thanksgiving holiday period a week ago, the fatality count rose to near the same level during the 54-hour period between 6 p.m. Friday-Sunday midnight.

At least 22 persons died on Ohio's highways, roads and streets the past weekend. During the Thanksgiving period, which ran from 6 p.m. Wednesday to Sunday midnight, two days longer than a normal weekend, 24 lives were lost.

Of the fatal accidents Sunday, one claimed three lives and another, two.

The latest deaths:

SATURDAY
CLEVELAND — Louis Stute, 14, died of injuries received Friday night when struck by an automobile near his suburban Brunswick home.

PORTSMOUTH — Roger Clayton, 36, of Piquet, in a two-car crash at the intersection of Ohio 104 and McDermott Road in Scioto County, 13 miles west of Portsmouth.

CLEVELAND — Sherrie Peran, 16, of Strongsville, when a car in which she was riding struck a pole in Strongsville.

COLUMBUS — Barbara Jean Richburg, 24, a Columbus junior high school teacher, when her automobile went out of control on an exit ramp of Interstate 70 in Columbus and hit a utility pole.

YOUNGSTOWN — Samuel Wilson, 80, of Youngstown, when struck by an automobile as he walked across the Cedar Street Bridge in Youngstown.

BUCYRUS — Joyce J. Curtis, 36, rural Sycamore, in a two-car crash at the intersection of Ohio 19 and 103 in Crawford County.

LIMA — Gary Crites, 20, Lima, when the car in which he was riding crashed on Piqua Road in Allen County West of Elida. EUCLEID — Stephen Jukiewicz, 17, Willowick, when his car and a Norfolk & Western train collided in Euclid.

SUNDAY

CANTON — Judith E. Murray, 24, Canton, in a one car accident on rain-slicked I-77 one mile north of Canton.

DELPHOS — John William Brown, 36, Van Wert, killed as he walked along U. S. 30 three miles west of Delphos in Van Wert County.

Want Wallace To Back Parties For 1972 Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — State political organizations spawned by George C. Wallace's 1968 presidential bid have urged him to support a convention of independent parties to draft a platform and pick presidential and vice presidential candidates in 1972.

The National Committee of Autonomous State Parties, representing 27 states, invited the former Alabama governor Sunday to seek the nomination for president himself.

But the organization, in its resolutions, also asked him to respect the "rights of sovereignty" of autonomous state third party groups, complaining that his 1968 national campaign organization was dictatorial.

William K. Shearer of Los Angeles, chairman of the participating National Committee of the American Independent party, predicted Wallace would run again and would seek organized third party support to avoid the expense of running in state primaries.

Page Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller, Route 1, and a 1965 graduate of Logan Elm High School, is currently performing as one of the leads in the musical comedy, "Once Upon A Mattress" with the St.

Louis Repertory Theater in St. Louis, Mo.

Page, now making her home in New York City, is under contract with the William Morris Theatrical Agency, the largest in the country.

Her personal agent is Judy Abbott, daughter of the famed producer-director George Abbott who directed "Once Upon A Mattress" on Broadway starring Carol Burnett.

A 1967 graduate of the American Musical and Dramatic Academy in New York City which is directed by Philip Burton, foster-father of actor Richard Burton, Page has performed in "Miss Me Kate" at the Rochester Music Theater, Rochester, N. Y.; "The Sound of Music" and "The Great Waltz."

At the Nave Theater at Columbia University, she sang in "Paint Your Wagon"; appeared at Guy Lombardo's

Jones Beach Theater on Long Island in "South Pacific"; Waldorf Astoria, Americana and New York Hilton Hotels; New Jersey Repertory Theater and Louisville, Ky. in a showcase, "Broadway Tonight."

At the conclusion of her current performance in St. Louis on Jan. 3, Page will return to New York City where she will perform in a one-woman showcase at Dangerfields, a dinner theater in mid Manhattan.

At Logan Elm High School she distinguished herself as an honor student, varsity cheerleader, homecoming queen and activities with the chorus, band, dramatics, 4-H and Farm Bureau Youth Council.

Ohio Traffic Toll Spurts; 22 Die In 54-Hour Period

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Authorities were pondering today over some sad traffic statistics for Ohio the past weekend.

After holding down the death toll over the long 102-hour Thanksgiving holiday period a week ago, the fatality count rose to near the same level during the 54-hour period between 6 p.m. Friday-Sunday midnight.

At least 22 persons died on Ohio's highways, roads and streets the past weekend. During the Thanksgiving period, which ran from 6 p.m. Wednesday to Sunday midnight, two days longer than a normal weekend, 24 lives were lost.

Of the fatal accidents Sunday, one claimed three lives and another, two.

The latest deaths:

CLEVELAND — Louis Stute, 14, died of injuries received Friday night when struck by an automobile near his suburban Brunswick home.

PORTSMOUTH — Roger Clayton, 36, of Piketon, in a two-car crash at the intersection of Ohio 104 and McDermott Road in Scioto County, 13 miles west of Portsmouth.

CLEVELAND — Sherrie Peran, 16, of Strongsville, when a car in which she was riding struck a pole in Strongsville.

COLUMBUS — Barbara Jean Richburg, 24, a Columbus junior high school teacher, when her automobile went out of control on an exit ramp of Interstate 70 in Columbus and hit a utility pole.

YOUNGSTOWN — Samuel Wilson, 80, of Youngstown, when struck by an automobile as he walked across the Cedar Street Bridge in Youngstown.

BUCKEY — Joyce J. Curilis, 36, rural Sycamore, in a two-car crash at the intersection of Ohio 19 and 103 in Crawford County.

LIMA — Gary Crites, 20, Lima, when the car in which he was riding crashed on Piqua Road in Allen County West of Elida.

EUCLID — Stephen Jukiewicz, 17, Willowick, when his car and a Norfolk & Western train collided in Euclid.

SUNDAY

CANTON — Judith E. Murray, 24, Canton, in a one car accident on rain-slicked I-77 one mile north of Canton.

DELPHOS — John William Brown, 36, Van Wert, killed as he walked along U. S. 30 three miles west of Delphos in Van Wert County.

Want Wallace To Back Parties For 1972 Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — State political organizations spawned by George C. Wallace's 1968 presidential bid have urged him to support a convention of independent parties to draft a platform and pick presidential and vice presidential candidates in 1972.

The National Committee of Autonomous State Parties, representing 27 states, invited the former Alabama governor Sunday to seek the nomination for president himself.

But the organization, in its resolutions, also asked him to respect the "rights of sovereignty" of autonomous state third party groups, complaining that his 1968 national campaign organization was dictatorial.

William K. Shearer of Los Angeles, chairman of the participating National Committee of the American Independent party, predicted Wallace would run again and would seek organized third party support to avoid the expense of running in state primaries.
